Russia To Resume Disarmament Talks

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (UPI)—Russia announced Wednesday that it will resume informal disarmament talks with the United States in Washington next week.

Soviet Ambassador Valerian A. Zorin told a U.N. Correspondents Association lunch he would go to Washington to participate in the talks and said he hoped President Kennedy's administration would not back down on what he termed the "positive steps" taken by the Eisenhower administration on disarmament.

Although there has been no formal announcement, it was understood the "informal exchange of views" would start Monday with J. McCloy, Kennedy's disarmament expert, representing the United States.

Chief point to be decided was whether to resume formal negotiation of a disarmament treaty and, if so, when. Informed sources here said the plan was to get formal talks going again July 31 in Geneva.

Since Russia walked out on the 10-power Geneva talks last summer, there has been no argument on the composition of the negotiating body.

The Soviet Union wants a 15-nation negotiating group, with five each from Communist, Western and neutralist countries. The United States has indicated willingness to add two neutralists to the five-western, five-Communist composition of last year's talks.

This was the major point to be settled on the McCloy-Zorin talks.

East Germans Call On U.S. For Red Peace Pact

BERLIN (UPI) —The Communist East German government Wednesday night called on the United States to open negotiations with Russia on a German peace treaty that would end Western rights in Berlin.

It declared itself ready to negotiate with the West German government to prepare a treaty.

East German support of Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev's memorandum to President Kennedy was expressed in a declaration of the East German Council of State, cabinet and Communist party central committee.

The joint declaration said East Germany welcomed the decision of Kennedy and Khrushchev in Vienna to maintain contact on vital matters.

It called by name on the Soviet Union, United States, Britain, France, Poland, Czechoslovakia and all states interested in a "peaceful solution" of the German problem to prepare a peace conference immediately and start negotiations on a treaty.

Navy Needs More Re-Enlistments

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — Navy Secretary John B. Connally said Wednesday the Navy needs more re-enlistments to keep up its technical manpower.

Connally told a news conference the Navy has launched a study of re-enlistment problems because it faces a severe shortage of technical personnel.

"We train a man for a four-year period, and he leaves and goes back to civilian life," Connally said. "Thus the technical training we gave him is lost to us."

Nuclear Test Resumption Is Advocated

Continued Delay Termed Danger To National Security

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Chairman Chet Holifield, D-Calif., of the House - Senate Atomic Committee disclosed Wednesday he had urged President Kennedy to resume underground nuclear weapons tests. He said he hoped the President would issue such an order soon.

At the same time, Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., raised the possibility that Russia may be using the U.S. test moratorium to develop a "kind of death ray" based on the neutron bomb. Theoretically, the bomb would kill all life in a target area without destroying property.

Their statements came as Secretary of State Dean Rusk told a Senate appropriations subcommittee he was deeply discouraged over lack of past progress with Russia on a nuclear test ban and general disarmament. He said no tangible progress had been made in the past five years.

The Holifield and Dodd statements were the latest in a mounting chorus of congressional proposals for a resumption of U.S. underground tests. Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., called Sunday for new tests at the earliest possible date.

Like Dodd, Holifield suggested that Russia may have been testing new atomic devices during the 32-month U. S. moratorium. He recommended a U. S. program of seismic detection tests, with the Soviets being permitted to send observers.

At a news conference and in a prepared House speech, Holifield proposed that the United States remain at the nuclear test ban talks in Geneva, despite the apparent impasse. But he said it also "should proceed with the things that need to be done in our testing program."

He said the underground tests should be geared, at least at first, to development of seismic information needed to determine whether any nation had set off an atomic explosion in violation of any test ban.

Holifield, who recently returned from Geneva as an observer at the test ban talks, disclosed that he gave his views to President Kennedy before the Chief Executive met at Vienna with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

Lana's Daughter To Be Summoned

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) —Police Chief Clinton H. Anderson said Wednesday he will file a Juvenile Court petition requiring an appearance by actress Lana Turner's missing daughter.

The girl, Cheryl Crane, 17, vanished after being arrested and released last Sunday. Police said they found her in the company of two girls who had been drinking.

Cheryl, a ward of the court since she fatally stabbed Johnny Stompanato, her mother's lover, has run away several times.

U.S. Senate Opens Debate On Highway Program

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Senate formerly opened debate late Wednesday on President Kennedy's highway program, but put off until Thursday an expected fight over increased trucker taxes.

Debate was limited to a general statement by Finance Committee Chairman Harry Byrd, D-Va., who told the Senate the bill "goes a long way in providing the new revenues' requested by Kennedy.

The House - passed legislation authorizes $11.5 billion in new outlays designed to complete construction on the 41,000 mile system of interstate highways by 1972.

It also includes about $125 million in higher taxes on big trucks, tires and inner tubes to help maintain the highway program on a pay-as-you-go basis.

Kennedy asked for about $300 million in new taxes. This was trimmed by the House, and by Senate committee action.

The Senate faces action on a number of controversial amendments when it resumes consideration of the bill Thursday. Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., expressed hope these could be disposed of and the bill acted on before weekend adjournment.

Sens. Paul H. Douglas, D - Ill., and Frank J. Lausche, D-Ohio, have announced they will offer amendments to restore all or part of the new taxes sought by the President.

In addition to clashes over financing, backers of an anti - billboard provision plan to push for a vote on their amendment.

It would extend for two years bonus payments to states which agree to ban billboards along non-urban portions of interstate highways. The amendment is being sponsored by Sen. Maurine Neuberger, D-Ore., with the bipartisan backing of nine other senators.

Peace Corps Vanguard Is Appointed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Peace Corps picked its vanguard Wednesday. Twenty-seven young men will train to build roads, schools and farms in Tanganyika and Colombia.

The 27 are the first chosen by the Peace Corps for training.

Twelve were named for training to survey and build secondary roads in Tanganyika. Fifteen were named to build roads, village schools and small farm buildings, dig wells, and raise animals in Colombia.

They were among more than 3,500 applicants who took rigorous written examinations recently. Other factors in their selection by the Peace Corps were personal references, educational background, and practical experience and skills.

The corps, created by President Kennedy, aims to supply the world's emerging nations with young, skilled Americans for work on projects.

They will receive little pay and share most of the food and conditions of the native peoples they assist.

Forty persons will be trained for the Tanganyika project, although only 28 will be sent to the African country. This will include 20 surveyors, four civil engineers, and four geologists.

The Tanganyika trainees will begin their program June 26 at Texas Western College in El Paso, Tex. Officials hope the training will fit them for helping Tanganyika officials to survey and build secondary roads.

Scarbeck Victim Of Blackmail

WASHINGTON (AP) — A 22-year-old girl. Visits to her apartment. Some photographs. And then blackmail. Government sources Wednesday described this as the Communist net that trapped U.S. diplomat Irvin Chambers Scarbeck into his alleged spying.

Scarbeck, 41, was arrested and arraigned Tuesday on charges of turning over secret information to Communist Poland this year while he was second secretary in the U.S. Embassy in Warsaw.

The Justice Department said he has signed a statement admitting the charges.

Government sources described the circumstances this way: Soon after he was assigned to the embassy in 1958, Scarbeck met the girl. She told him she was a former employe of the embassy.

On one occasion, Communist agents surprised Scarbeck in the girl's apartment and snapped photographs.

The agents then blackmailed Scarbeck, who is married and has four children. He gave them the classified information they requested.

"They forced him to deal with them, not the girl, under threats of exposure," the government sources said.

The sources said it was not known whether Polish agents had planted the girl for the specific purpose of compromising him.

The government has not disclosed the nature of the information Scarbeck allegedly turned over to the Communists. U.S. officials said it may never be disclosed.

General Urges Stepped-Up Military Aid

Arms Shipments By Reds To Cuba Pose Real Threat

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gen. Lyman L. Lemnitzer urged Congress, Wednesday to approve stepped up military aid for threatened nations, warning that the Soviet Union and Red China are shipping substantial amounts of arms into Cuba.

"The danger is very great" that Red-inspired revolution will spread from Cuba, said Lemnitzer, chairman of the joint Chiefs of Staff, and Robert S. McNamara, the secretary of defense.

"We have much evidence the Castro government is endeavoring to infiltrate the rest of Latin America," McNamara added.

This was one of their ways of seeking to justify President Kennedy's military aid proposals before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. The peppering of questions put to both Lemnitzer and McNamara left little doubt that the administration's $4.8-billion foreign aid bill faces some tough going, especially the $1.88-billion military portion.

Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., the committee chairman, several times asked McNamara to justify the aid program, particularly to economically underdeveloped nations. In essence the senator asked whether rifles and tanks would counter communism more easily than food and jobs in these nations.

The defense secretary said he would send Fulbright conclusions about specific countries in a series of classified studies.

Fulbright told McNamara the cost of the program is becoming staggering and "it is distasteful to the committee."

Noting that billions are being poured into nations about which no American had heard some years ago, the senator added: "We are seeking some proof that this isn't just the inertia of a program that has begun and is continued. We need evidence that it should be continued."

Sen. Homer E. Capehart, R-Ind. who told McNamara "I'm 100 per cent for building up the strength of these Latin-American countries," had a complaint too. He said report after report has been reaching his desk of waste and mismanagement in the military aid program.

"I'm personally following that up," McNamara replied. He said every dollar to be spent will be "screened and screened by me personally."

Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., raised stout opposition to Kennedy's proposal to eliminate a $55-million yearly ceiling on the amount of military aid that can go to Latin America.

"We've had a pretty sad experience" from shipment of arms to Latin America to preserve internal security, Morse said.

He added that he would insist on keeping a current provision that military aid for internal security cannot be given to Latin-American nations unless the President personally decides it is in the U.S. national interest.

McNamara said the program could be operated under a ceiling if the committee will raise it to $60 million. Also, he said, if the committee insists on the President making the decision on use of the money to strengthen internal security the administration will go along.

Red Rebels Rout Laotians

PAKSANE, Laos (UPI)—Royal Laotian army troops were routed from two positions Monday by a charge of 1,000 rebel infantrymen reminiscent of the Communist "human wave" assaults of the Korean War, an American military adviser said Wednesday.

Five American military advisers escaped with the local garrison in the fall of Ban Pak Lat. But two full platoons of government troops were cut off by the pro-Communist rebel capture of Ban Hat Bo.

The attack, led by bugle-blowers, was the latest in a series of violations by the rebel Laotian forces since the cease-fire was ordered May 3. A rebel assault in the Padong area precipitated a five-day boycott of the 14-nation conference in Laos last week by the non-Communist participating countries.

"It was Korea all over again," said one of the Americans in describing the assault tactics which drove the royal defenders from the two villages 28 miles north of here.

Laotian Prince Seeks Neutrality

Wants Ban On Foreign Troops

GENEVA (AP) — Prince Souvanna Phouma, likely to be next premier of Laos, gave the 14-nation Laotian conference a plan Wednesday to bar foreign troops and establish his troubled country as a bastion of neutrality on the rim of the Communist bloc.

The prince, calm and chubby, is an ex-premier who has had long experience in politics of the Southeast Asian Kingdom. Though he has been close to the Communists in recent months, Western leaders hope that he will turn out to be an effective neutral if he makes a comeback.

In a speech delegates had long awaited, Souvanna, 60, said he would be ready to proclaim neutrality. Laos, he promised, would enter no military alliances and allow no foreign troops to station themselves on its territory or pass through it.

The French-trained prince said the only exceptions would be two French bases and a maximum of 3,500 French military instructors agreed on at the Geneva Indochina conference of 1954, when conferees decided on a neutral role for Laos.

The exceptions for the French are expected to arouse opposition from the Communist nations, which say they want all foreign troops out of the country. The Communists particularly want the expulsion of U.S. military advisers. Communist sources repeated their opposition to all foreign bases after hearing the prince's speech.

In return for a Laotian declaration of neutrality, he said, other countries would be asked to promise respect for Laotian territory and independence. He said he wants no interference, direct or indirect, in Laotian affairs.

Joan Davis' Will Being Contested

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Joan Davis' daughter and mother Wednesday contested the comedienne's 1941 will leaving her estate, now estimated at more than $1 million, to her former husband.

A judge set June 26 for a hearing.

Miss Davis, 48, died May 23 in Palm Springs of a heart attack.

Friendly Crowd Greets Adlai In Santiago

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP) — Friendly street crowds applauded Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson Wednesday as Chilean Communists urged new demonstrations against U.S. policy and called on President Kennedy's special representative to go home.

The applause came as President Kennedy's special envoy strolled bareheaded through a crowd of 400 on his way from his hotel to the presidential palace for a talk with President Jorge Alessandri on ways to improve living conditions in Latin America.

There were no outward signs of anti-U.S. sentiment, such as Tuesday night when crowds smashed windows of the U.S. Information Agency office and leftist students burned a U.S. flag.

However, the Communist newspaper El Siglo blasted Stevenson as one of the authors of the April invasion of Cuba. It also gave a big front-page play to stories and pictures of the demonstrations and called for more.

Stevenson's talks with Chilean officials were devoted primarily to preparations for the economic conference.

Kennedy's New Car Called A Button-Pusher's Dream

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy got a new car Wednesday. It's a button-pusher's dream, with an elevator seat, a choice of three tops and global communications.

It took four years to plan and design the machine, five months to custom build it. It is just what the Secret Service ordered.

The new limousine is a lengthened, amor-plated version of the 1961 Lincoln Continental convertible. Ford Motor company officials declined to guess how much it cost to build.

A price tag wouldn't mean much to the man in the street anyway, even if he could scrape the amount. This car is the only one of its kind, and is being leased to the government at the customary $500 a year.

These are some of the features:

—An elevator back seat, that can be raised 10½ inches to put the President in more prominent view during parades.

—A choice in tops of leather-covered metal, transparent plastic and black fabric — or no top at all.

—Two two - way radios, one equipped with a "scrambler" so that confidential calls can be made through local switchboards without danger of anyone listening in.

—Retractable running boards and foot stands for Secret Service agents.

The new Navy Blue limousine replaces "Bubble Top," the 11-year-old Lincoln that is being retired after rolling up more than 100,000 miles in all parts of the world.

"Bubble Top" still is highly serviceable, but will be placed in the Ford Museum.

With its plastic top on, the new car will provide even better visibility than its predecessor. It is transparent over its full length, while plastic covered only the "Bubble Top."

Castro Asks Ten Times Team's Offer

Wants $28 Million In Small Tractors Plus Transportation

HAVANA (AP) — Prime Minister Fidel Castro conditionally agreed Wednesday to free his Cuban invasion prisoners in exchange for small instead of big tractors.

He demanded an "indemnity" valued at $28 million plus—around 10 times the offer of the American Tractors for Freedom Committee.

The negotiators from the United States left Castro's office after a three-hour, 40-minute bargaining session and huddled alone to decide on their response before returning to their own country.

A spokesman for the four-man American technical team said the group would communicate once more with Castro, then would definitely fly to Washington Thursday to confer with its parent committee of prominent U.S. citizens who are raising a fund to buy the tractors.

The committee was formed with President Kennedy's help after Castro said May 17 he would swap some 1,200 captives from the abortive April 17 invasion for 500 tractors. The Cuban chief asked for 500 heavy duty tractors used for construction jobs.

The committee counteroffered 500 smaller tractors for farm use. The fund raisers figured $2.5 million dollars or so might be enough to buy the equipment they had in mind.

Castro said, however, that his original demand for the 500 monster tractors would have cost $28 million plus transportation expense. He said he was not asking to trade machinery for human lives, but rather was seeking indemnification for what he described as the U.S.-fomented invasion of Cuba.

While he now is willing to settle for smaller tractors of the type the committee offered, Castro said, he wants whatever number of such tractors $28 million would buy, plus transportation costs.

Talks To Newsmen

The Cuban prime minister spelled out his views to newsmen in a 2¼-hour press conference following the closed negotiations.

Castro also tossed in some other changes, including a reduction in the number of prisoners he is willing to turn over.

Originally, according to word he had sent to the committee through 10 paroled prisoners, Castro was willing to swap all 1,214 prisoners except perhaps half a dozen. Wednesday, he listed the trading figure at 1,167.

Explaining the decrease, Castro said he was subtracting from the original total three Spanish priests who he indicated probably will be released under other circumstances, 16 prisoners accused of serious crimes, under the pre-Castro Batista regime, three invasion leaders who will be tried here unless swapped for political prisoners elsewhere, two prisoners under investigation of killing militiamen, eight who died "accidentally" while being taken to Havana, and an unspecified number of others captured in civilian garb after they had invaded Cuba in uniform.

Trade Man For Man

Castro also tossed out a suggestion that he wou'd trade 1,200 prisoners for 1,200 persons imprisoned in the United States, Spain, and a number of Latin-American countries.

That would be a good humanitarian substitute for the tractors for prisoners swap, he said.

Asked whom he had in mind for the 1,200 prisoners he would want freed in return, Castro said he had 'no list but we know there are many prisoners there (abroad) because they are patriots."

The bearded revolutionary leader kept the four U.S. negotiators cooling their heels at their plush Havana hotel quarters during the morning. Then, suddenly, they were summoned at noon to the Agrarian Reform Institute building where Castro has offices.

The U.S. team came here prepared to offer farm tractors. Havana newspapers and radio said President Osvaldo Dorticos told the visitors in a two-hour session Tuesday that 300 of the machines must be big bulldozers, of the kind used in heavy construction jobs like roads and airfields. The rest would be lighter farm-type tractors.

Dorticos also was described as adamant against including three leaders of the smashed invasion in the exchange. They are: Manuel Artime, the invasion chief; Jose San Roman, a battalion commander, and Rafael Bolivar Fuentes.

These three, according to Ha-

Says "No" To Kennedy

U. S. District Judge Oren R. Lewis refused yesterday to allow the Justice Department to intervene in the Prince Edward County School case. (AP Photofax)

Dept. Of Justice Ordered Out Of School Dispute

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—A federal judge Wednesday denied Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy permission to intervene in the case of Prince Edward County's closed public schools.

U.S. Dist. Judge Oren R. Lewis said "the granting of intervention will unduly delay and prejudice the adjudication of the rights" of the original Negro plaintiffs and the county school board.

Kennedy asked the court April 26 for permission to intervene as a plaintiff in the 10-year-old school racial dispute. He contended intervention by the federal government was necessary "to prevent the circumvention and nullification" of the court's school desegregation order.

Kennedy also had contended that intervention by the government was necessary "to safeguard the due administration of justice and the integrity of the judicial processes of the United States."

In Washington, Justice Department officials said they would have to study the court's opinion before making any statement.

Prince Edward County was one of the original counties named in the U.S. Supreme Court's 1954 school desegregation case. It has been without public schools for the past two years because the county board of supervisors refused to appropriate funds for their operations.

The county's 1,800 white school children have been attending private segregated schools financed mainly by county and state tuition grants.

The overwhelming majority of the county's 1,800 Negro school-age children have not had any formal instruction since the public schools closed.

The tuition grants — for education in private nonsectarian schools or public schools in another locality — are available to the Negroes, too, but only a handful have applied for them.

Tampa Police Crack Down On Pornographic Racket

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — Police here said they haves cracked a well-organized prostitution and pornographic ring involving a modeling agency, a motel and a nudist camp.

Five men and three women have been arrested, police said. However, they declined to release their names until they are charged by the state attorney's office.

The arrests resulted from a three-month investigation of the modeling agency which had been supplying girls for prostitution and pornographic pictures, police said.

They were tipped to the organization when two women, who had answered a modeling agency advertisement, were told that they would be required to pose for nude pictures.

The investigation led police to a Tampa motel, which they said was working closely with the agency for prostitution and call girl purposes.

Later, police discovered that an official of a nudist organization was taking most of the pornographic pictures for the agency.

Another Dies From Plane Crash

THE HAGUE (UPI) — One of the 17 persons rescued from the wreckage of a KLM Royal Dutch airliner in Cairo Tuesday died Wednesday, bringing the death toll in the crash to 20, the airline announced.

Nineteen of the 36 persons aboard the turboprop plane were killed outright when the plane crashed in a 900-foot butte called "Disaster Ridge" three miles from the Cairo airport.

Airline officials said the 20th victim, Eng Lay Gan of Malaya, died Wednesday morning in a Cairo Hospital.

Three Ohio Men Die As Plane Hits Hillside

LIGONIER, Pa. (AP)—Minutes after it took off Wednesday, a private single - engine plane crashed into a heavily-wooded hillside in northeastern Westmoreland County, killing three Ohio men.

The men left the Johnstown-Cambria County Airport against the advice of another pilot who was waiting to leave the airport and head in the same direction.

"Visibility on the field was not bad, but it was poor over the ridge where they crashed," said Robert Burman, secretary-manager of the airport authority.

"One of the other pilots advised them against leaving."

The two passengers in the plane — Paul Schaliret, 50, and Ralph L. Barton, 46, both of Mount Vernon, Ohio—were officials of the E. A. Schaliret Transfer Co. of Mount Vernon. The pilot was Rudy Markey, 27, of Medina.

They were en route to Mount Vernon from Philadelphia after an overnight stop at Johnstown. They took off Wednesday at about 9:35 and crashed minutes later into the hillside at Laurel Ridge, about six miles north of Ligonier.

Korea Junta Gives Warning To Profiteers

SEOUL, Korea (UPI) — South Korea's military leaders Wednesday backed up promises to eliminate corruption with a new law which imposes the death penalty for certain forms of illegal profiteering.

Then the ruling junta ordered "illegal profiteers" to report their profits voluntarily to a special committee within 10 days. Those who report honestly will escape the death penalty but will face fines, back taxes or confiscation of the profits, the junta declared.

The new law, announced by the Supreme Council for National Reconstruction, hits hardest at profiteers in the government. It calls for swift punishment of officials, politicians, military officers and owners of private schools who received more than $38,000 (50 million hwan) through "illegal" means during the eight years prior to the military takeover last month.

Official Brands Girlie Books Obscene

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — Asst. Atty. Gen. Clayton A. Dietrich branded six "girlie" magazines — subject of an obscenity test — as "handbooks of seduction" in Maryland's Court of Appeals Wednesday.

Dietrich warned the high court if it reverses the convictions of six Baltimore news stand operators that this type of magazine "would be sold in neighborhood drug stores."

Martin B. Greenfeld, carrying the case of the news stand operators to the high court, told the five judges that what goes on in the East Baltimore Street area, where the books were largely purchased by police, is "far more daring than what is portrayed in these magazines."

"These magazines may be in poor taste, they may be referred to by some as trash, but they are not obscene," Greenfeld said.

Copies of the six magazines and a set of 15 nude photographs also subject to the test were in evidence on the high bench during the arguments. One judge picked up a copy of a magazine and leafed through it.

Judges William L. Henderson, Hall Hammond, Stedman Prescott, William R. Horney and Charles C. Marbury heard the case.

Dietrich said the girls pictured in the magazines had a "come hither" look and not much was left to the imagination.

"There's not much left to one's imagination at Ocean City or Atlantic City, either," Judge Hammond observed.

The court took the case under advisement.

Year-Round Operation Of Public Schools Is Proposed

ROCKVILLE, Md. (AP) — A plan for year-round operation of Montgomery County schools was proposed Tuesday by Dr. C. Taylor Whittier, county superintendent of schools.

The system, which officials said would be the first of its kind in the nation, would involve cycles of 12 weeks of school followed by 4 weeks of vacation.

Under the proposal, a child's school year might be scheduled like this:

July 5 to Sept. 23, school; Sept. 24 to Oct. 23, vacation; Oct. 24 to Jan. 27, school; Jan. 28 to Feb. 26, vacation; Feb. 27 to May 24, school, May 25 to June 24, vacation.

Holiday periods, except for spring vacation, would be observed as usual.

The schools would be virtually incon'inuous use because the cycles would overlap. For example, one cycle might begin July 5, another Aug. 1, a third Aug. 29, and a fourth Sept. 26. All children in one family would be scheduled to attend the same cycle, if parents so requested.

Speaking of the plan, submitted to the county board of education for study, Whittier said:

"The 12-4 plan presented here does not mean that pupils would attend year-round school. They would be in school 180 days a year, about the same number as at present.

"The advantage of this arrangement could be to permit use of school buildings throughout the entire calendar year."

He said the proposal could reduce school construction costs over the next five years by as much as $30 million. That, he said, also takes into consideration an estimated $4 million that would be necessary to air condition the schools; a necessity, he feels, if the schools are to operate through the summer.

Whittier said conferences will be held in coming months with civic groups, parent-teacher associations and other organizations. If opposition is strong the proposal probably will be dropped. If the reaction is favorable, the program may be started in one elementary, one junior high and one senior high school in the summer or fall of 1962.

The program would be tried out in urban areas, he said, so that children in rural areas still could help with farming, if their parents wished.

Bob Kennedy Says Public Is Indifferent

Law Enforcement As Good As People Want It, He Claims

NEW YORK (AP)—Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy said today the public was too concerned about "earning an extra buck" to become aroused about crime and corruption.

"Law enforcement is going to be as good as the people want it," he said.

Kennedy made the comment to newsmen on a three-hour tour of the United States Court House, meeting and shaking hands with staff members.

"We'll make some progress, but we're going to have organized crime and corruption in the United States as long as the attitude of the people remains what it is—acceptance of crime and corruption — and the most important thing is having bigger television sets, bigger autos and earning an extra buck—concentration on material goods."

Kennedy said "a good deal of under-the-table operations and payoffs" existed in stock transactions, although not involving major firms.

The brother of President Kennedy said gambling was the main income source of major underworld operators and that they used this revenue to conduct other ventures, such as taking over unions, getting control of companies and bribing athletes.

Asked whether legalized gambling might be the answer, Kennedy said: "No, not as far as the federal government is concerned."

New Orleans Mayor Named Ambassador

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy named Mayor de Lesseps Morrison of New Orleans as new U.S. ambassador to the Organization of American States (OAS) Tuesday.

Morrison, mayor of New Orleans for 15 years, will resign his city post within a few days. His successor will be chosen by the New Orleans City Council.

The 49-year old Spanish-speaking mayor will be one of the leaders of the U.S. delegation to the Inter-American Economic Conference opening July 15 in Uruguay.

Rep. Saylor Attacks Plan To Buy Foreign Coke

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Defense Department plan to purchase foreign-produced coke for use in military installations in Europe is "counter to American interests," Rep. John P. Saylor, R-Pa., said Wednesday.

The proposal not only violates administration policy to check the outflow of gold from the United States but also ignores distressed economic conditions in mining areas, Saylor said in a statement.

The department's intention to buy foreign-made coke, Saylor said, constitutes a "shameful retreat from responsibility in international affairs.

"If the order for the coke were to be placed with American firms, at least a million tons of coal would be needed," he said. "At a time when coal demand is far below normal such an order would look most attractive to miners, railroaders and others dependent upon the coal industry for their livelihood."

Five Killed As Car Rams Abutment

BECKLEY, W. Va. (AP)—A car rammed into a bridge abutment on the West Virginia Turnpike near here Wednesday killing five Columbus, Ohio, residents. It was the second worst accident on the toll road since it opened in 1954.

State Police identified the victims as Woodrow Johnson, 43, the driver; Hugh Stacey Jr., 42, and Stacey's three children, Virginia, 13; Jacqueline, 11; and Hugh Lee, 9. All were Negroes.

It was raining about 7 a.m. when the late model car slammed into the abutment some six miles south of Beckley.

The speedometer was locked at 65 miles per hour when a wrecker pulled the vehicle away from the concrete pillar.

Trooper G. A. Rodebaugh said he believed the driver fell asleep.

Test Pilot Testifies In Brace Trial

BALTIMORE (AP) — A Marine Corps flying instructor testified Wednesday that he had reproduced the conditions Capt. Ernest C. Brace said made his plane crash on the Eastern Shore in January, but that the test planes kept flying.

Brace, 29, is on trial in U.S. District Court on charges that he deliberately caused the crash of his training plane Jan. 3 near the Choptank River in Talbot County.

The decorated combat veteran had said he was forced to bail out because of a runaway propellor. But Marine Corps Col. George E. Mouzakis said he had tested six planes like the one Brace had been flying, and found that he could continue flying at the conditions described by Brace.

Tuesday, prosecutors submitted evidence to support their contention Brace had made arrangements to stay in Baltimore before the crash. After the crash, searchers looked for more than a week for the downed flyer, whose parachute was found not far from the wreckage of his plane. He later turned himself in to the FBI in Baltimore, where he said he had been staying in a waterfront hotel.

The FBI has accused Brace of taking out an insurance policy before the crash, which he hoped would help him out of financial difficulties. The pilot was stationed at the Marine base at Quantico, Va.

Lackadaisical Action In Stock Market Is Analyzed

By JACK LEFLER
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market's lackadaisical action has aroused a certain amount of caution, hesitation and some skepticism, a Wall Street analyst says.

Kenneth Ward of the brokerage firm, Hayden, Stone & Co., attributes it primarily to:

Disappointment over the Dow Jones industrial average's inability to reach a new high immediately, uncertainty about the final result of top-level conferences held recently in Europe, the various antitrust investigations and studies being made of the securities business, and the fact that the business upswing has yet to be translated into better earnings and dividends.

However, he adds, with easy money and credit conditions prevailing, inflationary forces increasing and reserve buying power of institutions and private investors remaining large, over-all business and profits should improve still further.

Ward holds to his earlier opinion that 730-740 on the industrial average will be reached during the summer.

"No bull market has ever advanced without periods of hesitation and this one is no exception," he says.

"Notwithstanding the possibility that a further period of reaction and consolidation will be necessary before the over-all market is again in position for another attempt to penetrate the May closing high of 705.96 on volume and reach an all-time peak, it is difficult to envision any serious setback taking place."

A. M. Gilbert of Van Alstyne, Noel & Co. finds in the contraction of trading volume an indication that the public has moved to the sidelines temporarily.

But he says there is no indication of any large-scale liquidation of stocks; rather, purchases are being held in abeyance for the time being.

"The basic underlying support remains particularly strong since prices, despite the moderate selling of stocks, hold near the upper level of the market's pattern," Gilbert says.

"We feel confident that both investor and trader will find the outlook for stock prices encouraging and that before long the uptrend will be resumed."

Senate Confirms Henry D. Smyth

Also by voice vote it approved William I. Cargo, of Bethesda, Md., a foreign service officer to be deputy representative.

President Joshes Salinger On Thirty-Sixth Birthday

WASHINGTON (AP) —White House press secretary Pierre Salinger celebrated his 36th birthday today and President Kennedy took joshing recognition of Salinger's current problems.

The press secretary has been bombarded daily by questions from reporters eager for every detail of Kennedy's back injury. On occasion he has flared at the persistent inquiries.

Kennedy offered a bit of implied sympathy with a birthday gift.

The President sent Salinger a paper-back volume entitled "Shifferes' Family Medical Encyclopedia." On the inside cover Kennedy wrote: "For Pierre, who picks up where Shifferes leaves off. John F. Kennedy."

Salinger's office staff also joined in the ribbing, giving him a metal "first aid leader kit."

Navy To Dedicate Biggest Transmitter

CUTLER, Maine (UPI) — The Navy's newest radio transmitting station—probably the most powerful in the world—will be dedicated here June 23.

Rear Adm. Frank Virden, director of naval communications in Washington, D.C., will be the main speaker at the dedication of the $70 million station.

With an output of more than 2-million watts, this station is 40 times more powerful than any other transmitter in the United States.

The mission of Cutler Radio, with both high and low frequency facilities, will be to provide transmission to all units of the U.S. fleet in the North Atlantic, Arctic Ocean and Mediterranean, including submarines.

Plans Six Centers

NEW YORK (UPI)—United Bowling Centers, Inc., said Wednesday it will spend $4.5 million to open six new centers in the next 19 months. They will be located at Nashua, N.H. Greenfield, Mass., Manchester, N.H., Richmond, Ind., Fort Wayne, Ind., and Savannah, Ga. United presently operates six centers on Long Island, Connecticut, New Hampshire and South Carolina.

GOP Chairman Says Nixon May Run For Governor Of California Next Year

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Republican National Chairman William E. Miller said Tuesday it was his personal guess that former Vice President Richard M. Nixon would run for governor of California next year.

In response to a question at a National Press Club luncheon, Miller said Nixon, the 1960 GOP presidential nominee, was seeking to rebuild the party so that it could win the state in next year's elections.

He expressed belief Nixon would be under "tremendous pressure" to run for governor if polls indicate that only he could win.

"Whether he will run, I do not know," Miller said. "If asked for my personal guess, my guess is that he will run."

Miller refused to admit a difference between himself and former President Dwight Eisenhower over whether the United States should have provided air cover for the ill-fated Cuban invasion.

He said last weekend that President Kennedy made a tragic mistake in revoking Eisenhower's decision to provide air cover for the Cuban exiles. Eisenhower said at Cincinnati, Ohio Monday night that Miller must have misinterpreted his position. He said he had not approved any plan for air cover and since no plan for invasion was completed when he left office.

Miller, an upstate New York congressman, said Eisenhower would never have given a go-ahead for the invasion without air cover.

He said Nixon opposed U. S. intervention in Cuba last year on grounds that the Cuban issue should be approached through the Organization of American States. The Kennedy administration, he said, apparently decided that approach was unworkable and agreed to permit the invasion.

Kennedy Kept Back Injury From His Wife

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy not only kept his lame back a secret from his wife, but talked her out of hurrying home from Europe when she learned about it.

This word came Wednesday from White House press secretary Pierre Salinger, who was besieged by reporters again for details about the ailment that has put the President on crutches.

Since Kennedy wrenched his back while taking part in a ceremonial Canadian tree planting a month ago, this meant that Mrs. Kennedy was evidently unaware her husband was in pain all during their May 3-June 5 trip to Paris, Vienna and London.

Salinger said as far as he knows Mrs. Kennedy first learned of her husband's condition when she read about it in the newspapers while vacation in Greece last week.

She sent a message to her husband saying she thought she ought to cut short her trip and return to Washington to be with him, Salinger said, but the President told her not to do this.

The First Lady is due to return to Washington Thursday night, following her original plans.

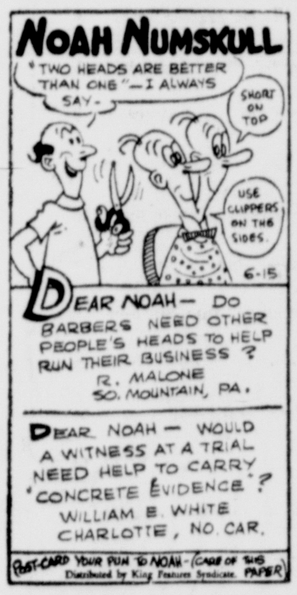

Kennedy, who has been taking ultrasonic and hot pad treatments while carrying on a full work schedule, plans to drive to National Airport to greet her even though it will be close to midnight.

It will be his first trip outside the White House since he flew back Monday from a weekend of rest in Palm Beach, Fla.

The chief executive did not mention his ailment, even to his personal staff, and gave no evidence of it during all the activities of the European trip. When Kennedy completed his round of conferences and flew back to the United States on June 5, Mrs. Kennedy remained in London and then went on to Athens.

Dr. Janet Travell, the White House physician who says Kennedy's trouble is not related to previous back injuries, examined the President again Wednesday and reported he continues to improve.

Near Death From Cancer, 4-Year-Old Boy Has Happy Day At Zoo

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — They took little Johnnie Dougherty to the zoo Tuesday.

It was a sad, glad hour for the 4-year-old boy who knows he's very ill, but doesn't know why.

More deeply moved than they dared to let on, the grownups spoke brave words, determined that as few shadows as possible be cast on this day toward which Johnnie yearned for so long.

Cancer compelled the amputation of the boy's left leg last December. Disease has cost him the sight of his left eye.

But if the body has withered, something inside has not. This something has kept alive a kind of buoyancy. It lets the boy mask pain with smiles when his mother, Elizabeth, mother of five others, fusses over him, fighting back the tears.

A lover of animals since he first was able to name one, Johnnie talked day after day of going to the zoo. He rattled off all that he wanted to see — the turtles and snakes, the ducks and donkeys, the antics of the monkeys and the graceful nuzzling of the ponies. "When he is able to stand on crutches," said Mrs. Dougherty, "then we'll try to let him see the zoo."

So in 90-degree heat Johnnie rode to the zoo in an ambulance, sleeping part of the way. He was taken slowly around the special section for children, which with special touches of color and comic character, is truly a bit of a wonderland.

Johnnie was shy. Again and again he turned to his mother for reassurance. He brightened when the animals clowned and when he was allowed to feed the lambs, young goats and a burro.

The doctors cannot give Mrs. Dougherty much hope for the boy. But she fashions her own, out of her heart, and out of the prayers of the many who have come to know of her son's affliction.

"He's a wonderful boy," she says. "I try to give him all I can. We've certainly been praying for a miracle that he will live."

Algeria is a land of contrasts. North of the Atlas Mountains, the country's narrow coastal strip is blanketed with vineyards, orange groves, and vegetable gardens. But south of the mountains stretches the arid Sahara Desert.

Festival Will Be June 22

Plans for a strawberry festival and a pot-luck luncheon were formulated and a discussion of the society held at the meeting of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of Fairview Avenue Church. Mrs. John Groves presided. Mrs. Edgar Bender led in prayer. Mrs. Robert Webster read the meditation, "Home for the Homeless."

Mrs. Finley Thompson, district president, spoke on the method of filling out the different society forms, and mentioned books, movies, and slides available to each group. A question and answer period followed.

A strawberry festival will be held June 22 from 4:30 until 7 o'clock. Mrs. Richard Mawhinney, Mrs. Edgar Caldwell, Mrs. Frank Kienhofer and Mrs. Douglas Dawson are in charge of arrangements.

The July meeting will be in the form of a pot-luck luncheon. Mrs. Harold Hawkins and Mrs. Jesse Baker were in charge of refreshments. "Sing Along with Mitch" records were played during the social hour. Mrs. Grove offered the invocation. Others present were Mrs. Bertha Rice, Mrs. Minola Baker, Mrs. Dewey Zimmerman, Mrs. Ralph Wilson, Mrs. Richard Welker, Mrs. Russell Ash and Mrs. Mabel Watkins.

MARJORIE SUE JOHNSON

Mr., Mrs. J. T. Shrout Mark 50th Anniversary

The 50th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. James T. Shrout was celebrated at an open house Sunday at their home, Highland Avenue, Wiley Ford.

The former Miss Mary Frances Stonebraker, Petersburg, W. Va., became the bride of Mr. Shrout, also of Petersburg, June 9, 1911, with the pastor of the Church of the Brethren officiating. Mr. and Mrs. Shrout are the parents of four children, Mrs. Freda Shipway, Mrs. Margaret Wolford, Mrs. Mary Brown and James Shrout. They have six grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

The couple moved to Cumberland, when he obtained employment with the Taylor Tin Plate Mill. For 40 years he was foreman of the Cumberland Cement and Supply Company, retiring in 1959. Both Mr. and Mrs. Shrout are in good health. His hobby is his garden, and hers, her flowers.

A golden color scheme was carried out in the decorations of the refreshment table and repeated in the tiered cake, topped with golden wedding bells. Approximately 125 guests attended.

Group To Receive Charter

The Allegany-Garrett County Licensed Practical Nurses Group will install officers and receive its charter at the annual dinner meeting, to be held Saturday at 6 p. m. at Nave's Dining Room.

Miss Mary E. Wagner and Miss Thelma E. James, state president and first vice president, respectively, will officiate at the installation and present the charter to the local unit.

John G. Burke, retiring president, is to extend the welcome and offer the invocation. Mrs. James will speak briefly.

WIFE PRESERVERS

Cotton knit garments will usually dry wrinkle-free if smoothed over side of washer before hanging.

Adult Camp Dates Are Announced

Adult Women's Camp will be held July 30-August 4, Miss Mary P. Wise, home demonstration agent, announces.

It will be held at the Western Maryland 4-H Center near Bittinger. Campers may begin arriving any time after 3 p. m. Sunday and leave after breakfast Friday. Miss Wise euggests families of campers pack a picnic lunch and spend the first evening in camp. They also are invited to attend the opening of camp with a vesper service at 7 p. m.

Camp is being planned, Miss Wise said, to give women "a relaxed vacation, an opportunity to enjoy nature, to participate in group activities, and to have a few new experiences in crafts and recreation." An additional day has been added to camp this year. All enrollments must be in by July 15.

Cecil Warnick Heads League

Officers were installed and awards presented at the sixth annual dinner dance of the Kelly-Springfield Men's Tenpin Bowling League, Saturday evenings at the LaVale fire hall. F. T. Bell, company personnel manager, was guest speaker. Philmore Fleming was toastmaster.

Cecil Warnick was installed as president; Curtis Brant, vice president and John Smitth, secretary.

Trophies were awarded to Cecil Warnick, high average; Richard Sites, high series; Roger Norris, high game; Gene Hendricks, Carl Jenkins, Robert Sharon, Donald Moore, John Smith, Edgar Golden, Charles Dayton, Zee Dinning, Donald Decker, Frank Werner, high team average; Gene Hendricks, Robert Holshey, Don Shaffer, Fred Weber, Charles Crabtree, individual trophies, league and playoff; Robert Sharon, most improvement.

Miss Rosemary Weber, 223 Frost Avenue, is a patient in Memorial Hospital.

Sue Johnson Receives Scholarship

Marjorie Sue Johnson, a member of the 1961 graduating class of Fort Hill High School, has received a full scholarship to St. Mary's Seminary Junior College, in southern Maryland.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Johnson, 148 Mary Street, Miss Johnson will pursue a science course. After two years she plans to transfer to a university and receive a bachelor's degree in nursing. She received the scholarship through Senator See.

While at Fort Hill, Miss Johnson was president of the Future Nurses Club, secretary of Alpha Beta Tri-Hi-Y and the a capella cnoir; exchange manager of the Sentinel; a member of the Girls' Glee Club and Ensemble; accompanist for "May Day" and participated in the senior farewell.

A past worthy advisor of the Order of Rainbow for Girls, she is grand musician of the State of Maryland Rainbow Girls.

Hairdresser Workshop Sunday

A New York artist, Miss Nancy Hiris, will conduct a styles workshop at the Tri-State Beauty Academy Sunday, beginning at 9 a. m. Miss Hiris is a well-known stylist and teacher, having taught at the M. Lewis Hair Design Institute, New York, for 13 years. She is the only person who has won three international awards at one time.

Any member of the Allegany Hairdressers Association will be welcome to attend the workshop. Those wishing to attend are asked to call Mrs. Valetta Kinsley, PA 4-0865, or Mrs. Hazel Defibaugh, PA 4-6737.

Mrs. Alberta Kerns Knippenburg, Potomac Park, is a surgical patient in Memorial Hospital.

Catherine Breedlove Heads Moose Women

Officers of the Women of the Moose Chapter 914 were elected and the next meeting date was changed at the business session, conducted by Mrs. Florence Wolfe.

Mrs. Catherine Breedlove was elected senior regent; Mrs. Wolfe, junior graduate regent; Mrs. Shirley Short, junior regent; Mrs. Rosalie Evans, chaplain; Mrs. Marie Payne, treasurer, and Mrs. Mary Alta Humbertson, recorder.

Installation will be held June 21. At that time the second meeting of the month will be held so as not to conflict with the national convention to be held in Memphis, Tenn., which Mrs. Wolfe will attend.

An Academy of Friendship Chapter Night program was conducted by Mrs. Norma Brown. Two candidates were received as members. They are Mrs. Meeda Luman and Mrs. Nita Harrison. They were sponsored by Mrs. Nellie Skidmore. A social concluded the evening and refreshments were served.

He received his bachelor of music degree this year from West Virginia University. He will be accompanied by Mrs. Sarah Youngblood Beyer, who also will play several organ solos.

Maryland Bank Robber Held

DETROIT (AP)—One of two fugitives from a Michigan prison camp wanted in the $3,531 robbery of a Maryland bank surrendered here Tuesday night.

Stanley Spencer, 26, of Port Huron, Mich., walked into police headquarters and gave himself up. The other fugitive, Lester L. Wathen, 35, was captured Sunday in Phoenix, Ariz.

Both escaped from the Waterloo Prison Camp near Jackson, Mich. May 23.

Police said both are wanted for the robbery of a branch bank in a Baltimore suburb last Thursday and for the theft of a safe containing $1,000 from a Grayling, Mich., business place. Fingerprints and mug shots, police said, involved the two men in the bank robbery.

Boy Drowns In Choptank

CAMBRIDGE (AP)—A 17-year-old high school boy drowned in the Choptank River Tuesday. Companions said he couldn't swim.

Police Chief Brice G. Kinnamon was operating the boat which recovered the body of Benjamin Maddox about one hour, 15 minutes after the accident happened at the city wharf.

Authorities said a companion named Robert King started to dive from the wharf and when Maddox grabbed him to hold him back, he went into the water with King.

The Maddox youth played football and basketball for Mason's Lane High School in Cambridge, where he had just completed his junior year, he was the only child of Mr. and Mrs. William Maddox.

Frederick Woman Killed On U.S. 340

FREDERICK (AP)—A 22-year-old Baltimore woman was fatally injured Tuesday in a head-on collision of a car and a tank truck on U.S. 340 about three miles south of Frederick.

The victim, Miss Myrna L. Moore, died at Frederick Memorial Hospital from a fractured skull and internal injuries. State Police said she was a passenger in a car driven by William Speer, 64, of Baltimore.

Speer and his 63-year-old wife were admitted to the hospital. Speer suffered a fractured shoulder and his wife suffered cuts.

Police said the Speer car was traveling south when it attempted to turn around in the road and was struck head-on by the truck. The truck driver, William C. Conway, 26, of Stokesville, N. C. was unhurt.

33 Cities To Get Funds For New Federal Buildings

WASHINGTON (AP)—A House public works subcommittee Tuesday approved construction of new federal buildings in 33 cities at a total estimated cost of $196,407,000 and improvements to 22 others at a cost of $41,386,300.

The action is subject to approval of the full committee, which meets Wednesday. Under the law, General Services Administration building programs must be approved by the Senate and House public works committees before funds may be appropriated. Actual funds are provided in separate legislation.

Improvement projects approved included:

District of Columbia, two projects, $3,538,000 and $2,376,000; Bethesda, Md., $2,328,000; Arlington, Va., $6,915,000.

Italian Prime Minister Welcomed In Baltimore

BALTIMORE (AP) — Prime Minister Amintore Fanfani said Wednesday "one of the guarantees of progress in Italy in the post-war years has been the friendship of the United States."

The Italian leader, fresh from a two-day meeting with President Kennedy, expressed thanks to the United States for "its constant and generous support.

"We believe at the root of our progress are so many reasons of your help."

The 53-year-old prime minister spoke at a luncheon of the American Community of Italian extraction of Baltimore and a news conference.

Fanfani is a leader of the majority Christian Democratic Party and prime minister since 1954.

He demonstrated a knowledge of Maryland history in talking about his conferences with President Kennedy.

Of the communique issued by him and the President, Fanfani said it reminded him of Maryland's motto "Manly words, womanly deeds."

Except that their communique was contrary, "for each word there is a fact."

He said these facts will be revealed through later diplomatic channels and actions.

After his Baltimore visit in which he received a key to the city from Mayor J. Harold Grady and a black-eyed susan coat lapel button from Gov. Tawes, Fanfani went to Philadelphia. He also will visit New York before returning home Friday.

Disarmament Talks Will Be Resumed

U.S. And Soviet Delegates Agree To Meet Monday

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —The Soviet Union and the United States will start talks in Washington next Monday aimed at setting up another round of disarmament negotiations.

Western officials, disclosing this Tuesday, said Valerian Z. Zorin, Soviet deputy foreign minister, and John J. McCloy, director of the U.S. Disarmament Administration, will meet at the State Department.

The two are to discuss the time, the place and the makeup of a committee for resumption of disarmament negotiations, which broke down last June 27 with a Soviet walkout on a 10-nation East-West group in Geneva. Their agenda was agreed upon here last March by Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko and U.S. Delegate Adlai E. Stevenson.

However, disarmament experts here said they expect Zorin to introduce Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev's recent proposal that Geneva talks for a nuclear test ban be merged into the intended negotiations on general disarmament.

They predicted that McCloy would reject this and a deadlock would follow. One official said the issue was "whether or not a disarmament conference can usefully be held."

CAIRO (UPI)—Morocco joined the Supreme Arab Defense Council Wednesday in ceremonies here. Morocco became the seventh member of the collective security pact, known as the Arab League. The other members are the United Arab Republic, Iraq, Lebanon, Saudi Arabia, Yemen and Jordan.

South Viet Nam President Asks U.S. To Train Military

By SPENCER DAVIS

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Ngo Dinh Diem of South Viet Nam is asking the United States to train his armed forces directly to increase their combat effectiveness against Communist guerrillas.

This was disclosed Tuesday by a top Vietnamese official, Nguyen Dinh Thuan, who is minister of security coordination in Diem's Cabinet.

Thuan arrived Monday with a personal message for President Kennedy from Diem. Thuan will hold a round of talks this week with Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson, Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Foreign Aid Director Henry Labouisse.

Defense Department officials said Thuan's request for direct U.S. training of Viet Nam military forces is "one of the things we are thinking about." But no final decision has been reached on the political problems such training would involve, they said.

At present, U.S. military advisory groups are stationed in South Viet Nam.

In direct training, he said, the United States could assign U. S. military men to Vietnamese units in training camp. These US. trainers would remain with the units when they are sent into the field combat.

Stones were used in early cannon and were not replaced by metal shot until the 17th century.

Garrett To Vote On Liquor Question

Garrett County voters will go to the polls on Wednesday, June 21, to decide whether the election districts will authorize or turn down the legal sale of whisky.

Only beer is legal sale in Garrett County, which is the only county in Maryland where the whisky is not sold.

A bill enacted in the General Assembly in March provided for a referendum on the subject.

The measure also stated that the sale of whisky is by local option. That means one of the 16 election districts may vote for it and the intoxicants may be sold legally. In all others, it would be illegal.

The bill also provided for the establishment of county liquor stores, where all the places selling whisky would have to buy their supplies.

Licenses would be issued to only bona fide restaurants and hotels and to fraternal and veterans organizations. There would be no sales from a bar in a public place properly licensed.

The polling places will be open from 7 a. m. to 7 p. m. Eastern Standard Time.

Election places in each district are as follows:

District 1 — Swanton, election building.

District 2 — Friendsville, fire house.

District 3 — Precinct 1, Grantsville, Harry Edwards Building, and Precinct 2, Jennings, Yommer Building.

District 4 — Bloomington, fire house.

District 5 — Accident, fire hall.

District 6 — Sang Run, county building.

District 7, East Oakland, in basement registration room in the basement of the Garrett County Court House.

District 8 — Precinct 1, Ryan's Glade, in Gorman Fire Hall, Precinct 2, Red House, in Chimney Corner Building.

District 9 — Johnson, in Route 40 Elementary School.

District 10 — Deer Park, fire hall.

District 11 — The Elbow, Parker Warnick Building.

District 12 — Bittinger, Buckel Store Building.

District 13 — Kitzmiller, town council chamber.

District 14 — Precinct 1, West Oakland, surnames A to M, in council chamber, Oakland City Hall; Precinct 2, Crellin, Crellin Elementary School, and Precinct 3, West Oakland surnames N to Z, in band room in Oakland City Hall.

District 15 — Avilton, in St. Ann's Hall.

District 16 — Mountain Lake Park, community building in Mountain Lake Park.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —Miss Angie E. Reds Appreciate Uncle Tom's Cabin

MOSCOW (AP) — Pravda Wednesday hailed "Uncle Tom's Cabin" as an exposure of racism in the American way of life. The Communist party newspaper's laudatory article about the book, run on the 150th anniversary of the birth of author Harriet Beecher Stowe, made no mention of the fact it now is banned in some U.S. school systems at the request of Negro organizations which consider it insulting to Negroes by depicting them as subservient to whites.

Building Bid Turned Down

A bid of $54,000 on a Baltimore Street property, part of the old James Clark estate, yesterday was deemed unacceptable at a public auction.

The property, located between the Liberty Trust Company and Second National Bank, has as trustees the Mercantile Safe Deposit and Trust Company for Mrs. Eloise Roman Fullerton.

A spokesman said the bid was turned down because "we feel the property is worth more considering its location in the center of the business section."

The proposed sale involved the three-story brick building at 77-79 Baltimore Street. The structure fronts 22 feet on the south side of the Main Stem thoroughfare. The lot is 22 feet wide by 163 feet long with the rear 59 feet being 16 feet wide. Part of the second floor is being leased.

The actual bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 ♣	Pass	2 ♣	Pass
5 ♣	Pass	Pass	Pass

Opening lead: Six of ♦

Whenever you see a defender affording declarer the luxury of a ruff and a discard by leading a suit of which both dummy and declarer are void, you may be sure he is either a beginner or an expert. The beginner will do it from ignorance, the expert from experience.

The bidding is given as it actually occurred and is entirely without the sanction of this department. I am moved by the utter disdain with which both partners treated their four card major suit holdings. North's proper response to the opening bid was one spade and that suit would have become the final trump. If South had elected to try out the spade suit himself on the second round, instead of leaping to five clubs, a four spade contract could still have been reached.

Against the five club contract the six of diamonds was opened and East's ace won the trick. The suit was continued and declarer ruffed. The ace of trumps revealed the bad news in that suit. He then cashed the ace, king of hearts, led a second trump to North's king of clubs, and ruffed dummy's remaining heart. He now got out of the lead with a trump.

At this time East had the lead with nothing but black cards in the dummy. Many players in dread of giving declarer a ruff and a discard would have led a spade, but a little counting simplified East's problem. Declarer is known to have had exactly six clubs, one diamond, and two hearts. That would leave him four spades, and one discard would do him no good. If South holds both the ace and queen of spades, there is no further play to the hand but, if he lacks the queen, the defense must not touch that suit. One discard will leave him with three spades and West's queen must still make. On this line of reasoning East exited with a diamond. Declarer ruffed in one hand and discarded a spade from the other, but he still had a spade to lose. The return of a spade by East would, of course, have permitted declarer to pick up the entire suit.

Ann Landers . . .

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I'm a very unhappy girl who will be 16 in September. I've always been grown up for my age and I started to date when I was 12. I guess you'd call me popular because I have always had more dates than I could accept. (Some nights I go out with one fellow from 7 to 10 p.m. and another one from 10 to 1 a.m.)

I'm beginning to worry about my reputation. It seems that the very first time I go out with a guy he tries to paw me. I have necked with a few fellows, I'll admit, but I'm not interested in making friends through the braille system with the whole school. Please tell me how I can protect my reputation.

—POPULAR BUT DECENT

DEAR P. BUT D.: One way you can protect your reputation is to cut out the second shift. A girl who has to stagger the traffic suggests that she needs more company than sounds respectable.

No doubt a few of the fellows you have necked with have been performing as publicity agents. Try a new approach — hands off, one and all. And don't go out with every fellow who asks for a date. If you're selective it will do wonders for your reputation.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I need some advice but nobody will give me an unprejudiced opinion because everybody I know has personal feelings about this matter.

I married young and had a baby boy the first year. My husband died shortly after the baby was born and I remained a widow for three years.

Now I am married to a very nice man and we have three children of our own. The oldest boy keeps begging me to change his last name so that it will be the same as his father's and his brothers'.

I want to do it but my first husband's parents are raising violent objections. They say I owe it to the memory of their son to keep his name alive through this boy. Please tell me what to do. I am going crazy trying to decide what is right.

— GUILTY CONSCIENCE

DEAR GUILTY: If the boy wants to change his name so it will be the same as the only daddy he has ever known, I say change it.

You can use your first husband's name as the boy's middle name. Then, for example, you can call him Robert Allison Brown.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Please print this for "Life is Lousy" and "World Destroyed."

A few days ago I had a quick lunch at a restaurant where my husband and I frequently have dinner. The waitress said, "Would you mind if I told you something? It makes us all feel so good when you and your husband come in. You are so in love with each other."

I went back to my office, closed the door and bawled for about ten minutes. Then I thanked God for my blessings.

We are both in our 50s now. My husband is one of those big handsome lugs and women can't keep their hands off him. About 20 years ago he became involved and it lasted almost seven years. I decided to weather the storm—and I did. No self-pity, no accusations, no tears, no recriminations and no running to relatives.

It's rough but it's worth it. They say a piece of steel that breaks and is welded is twice as strong — and it's true.

— HAPPY NOW

Are you tempted to smoke because the crowd does? If so, send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "Teen-age Smoking," enclosing with your request 10 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Police Pickup Bogus Checks

City Police Detective Thomas J. See Tuesday picked up two more "rubber" checks allegedly passed by John J. Lalley, 38, of Erie, Pa., who has been held in the county jail since his arrest last Wednesday.

Det. See said that six checks in all have been turned over to the Police Department and that at least six more were passed in this area.

He stated that the bogus checks total about $300.

Those picked up yesterday were drawn on the First National Bank of Arlington, Va. One was passed at Hill's Toy Store in the amount of $12.70 and the other on the Cadillac Lounge for $30.

Two Boys Drown In Calvert County

CHESAPEAKE BEACH, Md. (AP)—Two 17-year-old boys from District Heights, Md. drowned Tuesday while swimming off Chesapeake Beach in Calvert County.

Police identified the victims as Vincent F. Conte and David A. Cain.

Companions said the pair had been swimming about 100 yards offshore and apparently were unaware the tide was coming in. When they tried to swim in, they were unable to make the distance, their companions said.

The bodies were recovered in 10 feet of water by members of the North Beach Rescue Squad.

Girl Scouts Planning Minstrel At Flintstone

Girl Scout Troops 76 and 80 Flintstone, sponsored by the WSCS of Flintstone Methodist Church, will present a "hobo" minstrel Friday at 7:45 p. m. in the auditorium of Flintstone School.

Production director is Mrs. R. W. Ambrose and interlocutor will be J. W. Turner. The minstrel circle will be assisted by a chorus of 24 girls.

Songs, dances, monologues and specialty acts will be presented.

Following the minstrel, the parent group supporting the Girl Scout troops will hold a bake sale with proceeds used to purchase equipment for the two organizations.

County League Of Women Voters Meet Next Week

The newly-formed Allegany County League of Women Voters will meet June 20 at 8 p. m. at City Hall with the session open to all women citizens of voting age regardless of political affiliation.

The league considers selected governmental issues, not political parties. Appropriate action on an issue is taken only after extensive study and discussion. The league position, a concensus of the majority, is implemented by several methods including publications, letters, testimony at public hearings and the use of mass media and panel discussion.

The League here is a provisional chapter and will remain so for the time it takes the members to conduct a study of local government and public service. This is necessary in order that intelligent action be the product of the league, according to officials of the group.

After this is done it will be up to the members to select a project: improvement of schools, higher education, housing, health and welfare services, tax structures and water and sanitation.

At next Tuesday's meeting a nomination committee will present a slate of officers for consideration of the local chapter. In order to hold an election the membership must be determined. Regulations of the Maryland League of Women Voters states that a league does not have official status until it has a paid-up membership of 35 women. Dues are $5 and women interested in joining the chapter should do so before June 20.

Officials of the league wish to make it clear that it desires the membership to be representative of the entire community. The league is an organization for all women, not simply for women in business or the professions. In order to be successful the league must be able to have the thoughts of the entire area on specific issues, officials of the group stated.

The League of Women Voters draws its membership from those women who believe that representative type of government is the best way to maintain and extend our individual liberties.

Obscene Art To Be Destroyed

SION, Switzerland (AP) — The Sion Criminal Court has ordered an 18th century Japanese art collection destroyed under an obscenity ruling that the prints and ivory carvings possessed an erotic character intended to arouse sexual passions. The collection was confiscated last year on its return to Swiss art dealer Leopold Rayne after exhibition in Berlin.

Taking A Better Look At Venus

Scientists and technicians are stripping Venus bare of its concealing atmosphere and removing much of the mystery that surrounded our neighbor planet.

At a space tracking station in the Mojave Desert in California, they are bouncing improved radar pulses off Venus and measuring the time it takes them to return. By noting changes in the frequency of the signals, they can tell a great deal about the surface of the planet.

What they are discovering, among other things, is that Venus, aside from having an atmosphere, is more like the moon than scientists had supposed. Apparently it rotates only once on its axis in one trip around the sun, keeping the same face to the sun.

If so, one side is hot—perhaps 600 degrees F.—and the other is cold. Its surface, too, is revealed to be rough, as the moon's is. Altogether Venus appears to be even more inhospitable to life than scientists had supposed.

This adds to man's knowledge, and the results of that may be serendipitous. It also serves to measure distances with greatly improved accuracy. Thus the distance between earth and sun is now found to be 92,956,000 miles give or take a thousand miles. The probable error before this was done was 60,000 miles. If a space vehicle had been sent to Venus in 1962 without this knowledge, chances are it would have missed by 20,000 miles or more.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

TV

I fear that I contribute to juvenile delinquency. I look at TV murders whenever I have any time for such things. TV, to me, is fun, relaxation, amusement. If I want to be educated, I prefer a carefully written book or monograph. Most of the learning I find on TV adds to juvenile confusion. The debates among politicians and the question and answer programs are too trifling. Give me "Perry Mason," who wins every case by violating the rules of evidence. Or give me "Gunsmoke" where murder is the theme. What puzzles me is why these men do not marry their women.

Presumably a young fellow becomes a juvenile delinquent because, being bored with virtue, he watches TV and becomes vicious. But we had bad boys and bad girls long before there was any such thing as TV. Jessie James and Gyp the Blood lived before TV. It is too easy to jump to conclusions about what drives the young to sin and even to murder. We now have a whipping boy, TV. Nobody, however, is corrupted by any one medium.

For instance, there seems to be a fashion these days for children to sue parents for money the parents earned or own. It seemed to have started with a young lady who went after her grandmother and it goes the rounds like any other fashion. I have not seen this violation of the Ten Commandments on TV but it occurs in life quite often. I was told recently that a mother, coming home at a late hour, saw her very juvenile daughter, dressed to kill and going out. The mother gently inquired where the young lady was going to and received an impolite reply.

What does a parent do under such circumstances? When I was a child, there was no doubt about it. The parent would seize the child, put it across a knee and give it a thorough spanking. If that is too much effort for the parent, it is certain that the child will grow up not only as a juvenile delinquent but as an adult delinquent. Parents who cater to childish impudence help to manufacture more juvenile delinquents than all the murders on TV.

Besides, if children look at the murders, whose fault is it? The parent who says that he cannot refuse his child the wish to spend hours watching nonsense on TV is really not a parent. Such a person is little more than a legal guardian scared of his wards. The child, who may be bored with TV, will look nevertheless to establish beyond question who is the boss.

Children who sue parents or grandparents for money which the children did not earn by their own work violate Natural Law and therefore should have no place in any court. It is part of our present leniency to grant children the right to persecute parents and to withdraw from parents the right to protect children from corrupting materialism.

In my opinion, the gossip columnists do more evil than the murders on TV. When young people equate divorce as equal to marriage; when they regard it as the acme of success to be mentioned in such a column, however disagreeably; when they hire press agents to give them a bad name as long as the name is spelled correctly — then morality disappears and an entire nation suffers from corruption. I recently read one such document and could not discover in it a single name noted for service to the country, for contribution to civilization, or to fine and cultured living. The principal item dealt with a man who is openly living with a woman to whom he is not married.

If he can get away with that, why should not the kids imitate him, and her too, and get their names printed daily and favorably in the gossip columns? You and I can cite dozens of examples of the advertising of the immoral and the indecent to prove that such qualities pay while honest virtue is its own reward and gets you nowhere.

And so, I shall go back to my murders—to "Have Gun—Will Travel" where, at any rate, English is spoken as a language possessing grammar and diction and refinement of expression. Or perhaps I prefer relaxation in a Beatnik cafe where, at least, educated young and old have something else to speak about than small and petty gossip about each other.

Stevenson Visits Most Pro-Castro Country In South America Today

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — Adlai Stevenson today arrives in the country which is closest to following in the wake of Cuba. He will find, as he steps off his airplane at La Paz, 13,000 feet above sea level, a llama tethered on the grass to meet him, plus a group of cordial officials, plus several thousand Indians lining the streets of La Paz holding "Viva Cuba" signs and not so cordial.

The reason for lack of cordiality by the latter group is largely our own fault. Fidel Castro could have aroused little enthusiasm in Bolivia if we hadn't paved the way for him with procrastination, drunken diplomats, and Senate refusal to confirm a new ambassador to Bolivia.

In brief, what Adlai Stevenson will find is that the United States has poured millions into Bolivia, but has spoiled the benefits of that generosity by ineptitude, incompetent personnel, and tragic bungling.

The people of Bolivia, it should be noted, have an average income of $70 per year. In comparison, Cubans were wealthy, their per capita income before Castro was $500. The gnawing poverty which sends millions of Lafin Americans to bed hungry every night is a little worse in Bolivia, but not much. In Chile the per capita income is around $100; in Paraguay under $70. Salaries are so small in these countries that the Bolivian Minister of Foreign Affairs is paid only $45 a month.

Capitalizing on this poverty, Russia and Red China have been offering generous foreign aid to Latin America. In one year they have advanced $250,000,000 to Cuba alone, which is more than we have advanced to all the 19 other countries of Latin America put together. As part of this program, Premier Khrushchev, in New York for the UN Assembly meeting in October, offered Bolivia $150,000,000 to build a tin refinery.

USA Finally Moves

Problem No. 1—For months Bolivia had been talking to the United States about help in modernizing its tin mining, without result. But after the Soviet offer we finally got into action, made a tentative offer of $35,000,000 of which $10,000,000 was to come from West Germany, $10,000,000 from the World Bank and $15,000,000 from us.

To win the war against Communism, capitalism has to keep one step ahead, not one step behind. The Khrushchev proposal of a $150,000,000 tin refinery was made in October; and in January, 1961, the Russians sent a delegation to La Paz to nail down their offer of five times as much.

The Bolivian public was enthusiastic. The government of Bolivia not so. The Bolivian government is pro-American and anti-Castro. The Bolivian public is becoming more and more pro-Castro. Despite this, President Paz Estenssoro took the position: "When we have no shoes the Russians offer us a necktie. We don't need a tin refinery. We do need to modernize our mining methods."

This was not a popular position. Nevertheless, President Paz stalled off the Russian offer, waiting for the United States to firm up its $35,000,000 offer. But he's had to wait a long time. In fact, he's still waiting.

Germany sent Ambassador Walther Hess, one of the top members of its foreign ministry and former envoy to Mexico, to Washington to arrange its share of the tin deal. He left dismayed. He was only able to see minor officials in the state department. He could get no decisions. Neither could the Bolivian government.

Helping The Reds

Eight months have now dragged by and not one U. S. nail has been sent to Bolivia to modernize tin mining.

This plays directly into Communist hands. The Castroites have now taken over control of Bolivian labor unions and argue that the United States is a do-nothing country. All Bolivia gets is promises and lip service, they claim. Actually, this is not entirely the case. The United States has materially helped to balance the Bolivian budget for the past eight years. But the current bungling, plus Castro, has made most Bolivians forget this.

Problem No. 2—On top of this the U. S. Senate has held up confirmation of the new U. S. Ambassador to Bolivia, Benjamin Stephansky. He was appointed by Kennedy one month ago, but one man has blocked Stephansky—Sen. Tom Dodd of Connecticut.

Dodd is the only member of the U. S. Senate who was ever a registered foreign agent. He is sometimes called "the Democrats' Bargain Basement McCarthy."

Stephansky was born in Yugoslavia; is a naturalized American, has had a meritorious career in the diplomatic service, first as a labor expert, later as a career diplomat. He was picked for Bolivia because labor unions tend to dominate that country.

But Senator Dodd wants to see what's under the bed of his past.

Problem No. 3—American diplomatic personnel in Bolivia, as in most Latin-American countries, sport big cars in contrast to the poverty-stricken populace, indulge in drinking parties every night. They flaunt too much food, make no secret of the fact they're living for the day when they can be transferred to another post. They frequent the exclusive clubs, don't mingle with the people.

At present, one of the key men in the American Embassy in La Paz is such an excessive drinker that he has lost effectiveness with the Bolivian government.

All this is why Castro is making headway in Bolivia. When I was in Bolivia in 1954, friendly crowds with welcome signs met us in every village. But today, as Adlai Stevenson arrives, it's different.

Decision On Nuclear Testing Faces President

By Joseph Alsop

WASHINGTON

Next to Berlin, nuclear testing is the most urgent single problem now confronting President Kennedy. At Vienna, Nikita S. Khrushchev tried to solve the problem in his own way by a slick maneuver. Significantly, even the Khrushchev maneuver was not generally understood. But the effort to understand all aspects of this much-argued problem is certainly worthwhile.

What the President has to decide in the fairly near future is whether the U. S. will resume nuclear testing. But this decision is embedded and entangled in such a complex background that it is better to begin at the beginning, with the reasons why the decision has to be made just now.

The need for a decision primarily arises from the temporary, voluntary moratorium on nuclear tests. This was proposed by the Soviets and agreed to by President Eisenhower long ago, before the beginning of the Geneva negotiations for a worldwide, controlled, and permanent ban on nuclear testing. President Kennedy extended the volunatry moratorium when he took office, in order to gain time for one last intensive effort to negotiate a controlled and permanent ban.

The United States, being an open society, cannot resume testing without denouncing the moratorium. But if the Soviets have made their costly and time-consuming preparations for underground tests, they can quite easily resume testing in secret, while pretending to observe the moratorium.

A good many people, like former Chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission John A. McCone, think the Soviets are already cheating or are preparing to do so. Meanwhile, the Geneva negotiations for a permanent controlled ban on tests have reached deadlock. Deadlock has been reached, in turn, because the Soviets have abruptly run out on all their past agreements about the control system. They now demand a "troika" type of control system, which will not provide sure control.

The U. S. will never agree to a "troika" control system with a built-in Soviet veto on inspection. At Vienna, Khrushchev told Kennedy with great emphasis that he would never agree to any other kind of control system. Thus the deadlock in the Geneva negotiations now has to be considered as total and insurmountable. This is why the President now has to decide whether to resume testing after denouncing the temporary moratorium, which was only intended to give time for the Geneva negotiations to produce a result.

This is also why Khrushchev tried his slick maneuver at Vienna. He had no further interest in the test ban negotiations, most probably because the Chinese have flatly refused to join in any international control system, which would render an agreement worthless. He admitted this loss of interest quite openly to the President, during the Vienna talks. But he has a very strong interest in the moratorium which prevents American testing, while leaving the Soviets free to conduct secret tests. Hence the aim of the Khrushchev maneuver was to conserve the moratorium while letting the Geneva negotiations lapse.

The method used was a bland proposal to the President that the Geneva negotiations for a nuclear test ban should be "merged" into larger, nobler negotiations for total and universal disarmament. In this great aim, Khrushchev said he had the most vivid interest. He did not specifically add that if we accepted this merger, the voluntary moratorium on tests ought to be automatically extended for an indefinite period. But this was the obvious idea.

Hence the President answered that he too was vividly interested in general disarmament. But he added that it was much better to keep the test ban negotiations going until we found out whether something could be accomplished in this much more limited and simple area. In consequence, the negotiations are still going on, albeit in a most ghostly manner. They can be broken off as hopeless at any time, and the Soviets can quite properly be blamed for the break. And when this step is taken, the voluntary moratorium will automatically lapse, and testing can be resumed thereafter.

Diplomatically, then, President Kennedy has conserved complete freedom of action. Politically, the President has also acted to increase his freedom of action, by obtaining conditional promises of support from the British, who have been the strongest advocates of the moratorium and the test ban talks. While Prime Minister Macmillan was in Washington, in fact, the President got him to agree that resumption of American testing would be in order, if the Geneva talks continued to produce no results.

At this juncture, therefore, the question is solely whether the interests of the U. S. and the West will be best served by resuming testing. But even this is not a simple question, as will be shown in a second report.

Inside Washington

By Henry Cathcart

IKE'S ACTIVITY — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower seems to be engaging himself in political activities with a lot more zest than he ever did while he was in the White House.

One of the difficulties the Republican National Committee had to contend with during the Eisenhower years was his reluctance to play the game the way the pros wanted him to. Eisenhower insisted he was "President of all the people," and often refused to support the sharply partisan attacks cooked up for him by the GOP.

Eisenhower also refused to make patronage use of many federal job openings, something that his successor, President John F. Kennedy, has found extremely useful in controlling the votes of the conservative wing of his own party. However, since leaving the White House, Eisenhower seems extremely co-operative in supporting the aims and candidates of the Republican Party. He has agreed to play an active role in his party's political organization in Pennsylvania, the state in which his permanent residence is located.

After a meeting with Pennsylvania Republican leaders, Eisenhower permitted it to be announced that he would do what he could to aid the party there — meaning speech-making in behalf of candidates for state and national offices.

Recently, Ike came to the assistance of Texas GOP senatorial candidate John G. Tower, who became the first Republican to be elected to the office since post-Civil War days.

Some Washington pros, wondering about Ike's new interest in party politics, attribute it to the surprise he got when Richard M. Nixon was narrowly defeated for the Presidency. Ike was confident that Nixon would win, but now believes that Republicans must put forth a determined effort if they are to achieve control again. He's trying to set a good example.

Political Comedian

By John Crosby

Mort Sahl, one of the few comedians who dared to tell jokes about Eisenhower, and very good jokes, is now telling jokes about Kennedy — and running into rough weather from the audience.

"I've been accused of being a Republican agent," says Sahl, who is as mussed, bedraggled, and cheerful as ever. "I did 49 minutes of jokes on Kennedy called The New Frontier. (What else?) The editor of a Stanford University paper said I never attacked Nixon with the vehemence I attack Kennedy."

This, I think, is a little extreme. Sahl's Nixon jokes were wicked ("What about Nixon? His chances are good—but what about ours?" "Do you get the feeling Kennedy is trying to buy the country — and Nixon to sell it?") but then so are his Kennedy jokes. Talking to him, you get the idea that Sahl, a great admirer of Adlai Stevenson, is not at all sold on either Kennedy or the New Frontier. He's a little sore that Kennedy jokes don't get the same laughs as the Eisenhower jokes.

Eisenhower, I said, was a one joke man; after you got off the golf course, where did you go? "Eisenhower won't survive in history but nobody really disliked him for his mistakes. If Kennedy gets into trouble, they'll really hate him. The fact that the Republicans like him has me worried," said Sahl.

"You can always get a laugh if you use the cliches — you know, Caroline and Jackie's hemline and so forth — but I want to dig deeper than that. People here don't laugh when you mention his father. But I bet they will in London (where Joseph Kennedy was once Ambassador). The Democrats, with fists poised, keep saying: 'Well, he's trying very hard and you shouldn't bother him when he's trying.' It's this idolatry and worship which worries me.

"One gag writer who is very liberal said to me: 'When you criticize Kennedy, you're in a national disaster area.' I did the album because I felt somebody had to say something about his administration. Even the Republicans are for him in the audience. I've got this new question and answer period. Some people think it works and some people don't." He glared at his press agent who is apparently in the anti-question-and-answer group. "Anyway, I ask the Republicans in the audience who they're going to run in '64. They don't know. People are gutless. It's like finding virtues in a dictator — after all, he's got the office. People are evading their responsibilities to think."

I asked him about the topical comedian; weren't they flourishing? Sahl conceded there was a lot of topicality around but he implied that it was fairly phony stuff. "A comedian comes on and he knows everything that goes on. He says: 'Well, they made that trip!' Big laugh! But he doesn't say anything about the trip. That's no comment. A lot of this topical comedy is just bald statement — not real comment at all.

"However, topical humor is more negotiable. There are a lot of coffee houses in London doing political revue stuff like Second City and The Premise here. Even Ed Sullivan lets me get away with a lot more than he used to. He didn't want me to go to Cuba but he let me go to Laos. Same jokes, anyway! Nobody's really made jokes about that invasion. The only criticism is that it didn't work. The Democrats say he inherited that from Eisenhower, anyway."

"Sometimes it's all right to joke abotu things after they're over," observed Sahl. "You couldn't tell jokes about McCarthy until later." How about the Birch Society? I asked. "Birch is funny in some areas. Not so funny here as on the coast. On the coast they know Welch better than you do here. Welch had a rally out there that drew 9,000 people."

We fell to talking about nightclubs. (He's appearing now at Basin Street East.) A lot of the comedians have moved out of nightclubs to the concert hall where they can make as much in a night as they do in a club in a week. "A lot of us feel responsibility to the clubs," said Sahl loyally. "That's where we came from. The clubs are in economic trouble now. There's going to be only one club in Hollywood — the Crescendo. Ciro's is turning into an art theater and The Cloisters is becoming a Playboy Hotel.

"I don't like doing TV. It's killed the enthusiasm of the performers."

Heart Attacks Common In Women Past Fifty

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

It no longer is necessary for women to worry about their husband's heart attack. They can worry about their own, especially when they pass the half century mark.

We know that coronary thrombosis is just as common in women after age 50 as in men. This is contrary to the time honored belief that men have a corner on this disease. They still do before age 50, when three times as many men as women die of heart disease. To the best of our knowledge, the fairer sex is protected by the female sex hormones that are most active during the childbearing years.

These were the conclusions compiled by a group of physicians from Barnes hospital, St. Louis. They added their 4,436 autopsy reports to 5,460 performed at the Massachusetts General hospital and the 3,589 performed at Radcliffe Infirmary in Oxford. They based their conclusions on this total of 13,485 necropsies. Acute coronary thrombosis was responsible for death in 12.5 per cent of the men and 12.3 per cent of the women over age 50.

A heart attack is diagnosed less often in women because many physicians and their patients still are under the impression that the disease is more common in males. Chest pain in women is thought to be caused by other conditions, including hernia of the diaphragm or gall bladder disorders. Hereafter, more and more females will need an electrocardiogram when they develop distress in the chest area.

Despite this newly acquired equality, wives will continue to worry because men die at an earlier age. For many women, the heart attack will occur during widowhood.

KNEE SPONGES

H. E. S. writes: I have great difficulty in walking because of arthritis of the knees. Do you know anything about an operation I read about where plastic sponges can be placed in the knees to make walking easier?

REPLY

I'm not familiar with this operation and my feelings about it are expressed in the adage, "Be not the first to try the new . . ." I wonder what will happen to the sponges after they have been squeezed, twisted, and bent for a few months. Furthermore, it might be a calamity if the sponges acted like slivers and began festering.

VEGETABLES WON'T ERADICATE

J. R. writes: Is it true that celery, carrot, and beet juice will take calcium out of the joints to help arthritis?

REPLY

No. There is nothing in these vegetables that will absorb or eliminate calcium. But even if they did, the eradication of calcium would not improve the arthritis.

FORMULA DIETING IN DIABETES

B. B. writes: Is the 900 calorie reducing diet formula safe for a diabetic?

REPLY

The answer depends upon the severity of the disease. A clever dietician could work the formula into the diet of mild diabetics, using it for one or two meals with a regular dinner at noon or in the evening.

NO DANGER

C. D. writes: Is there any danger in eating with a family that has an arrested case of tuberculosis in the household?

REPLY

Not if the disease is arrested and the former victim has periodic chest X-rays.

TOMORROW: Bedtime relaxation.

To the limit of space questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

"Good heavens," a secretary cried to her boss who was dictating. "Every time you open your mouth, bubbles come out."

"It's nothing to worry about," soothed the boss. "While my wife was whipping up a spot of breakfast for me this morning, she failed to notice a little soap in the coffee maker."

The head of a big counterfeiting ring inspected a new bill very carefully, then patted the engraver on the back. "Spike," he enthused, "You've outdone yourself. I'd like to show my appreciation. Go ahead and run off a couple of extra thousand dollar bills for yourself!"

A Manhattan police recruit of pure Scottish descent passed his physical test with flying colors, was then asked, "How would you go about dispersing a surging and unruly mob?"

"I'd try a trick that always works in Aberdeen," said the recruit cheerfully. "Down there we just pass the hat around, and they shuffle off fast enough."

You're Telling Me

The U. S., it's just revealed, spends an average of $6,600,000,000 annually on home repair and improvement. This, says Grandpappy Jenkins, makes spring house-cleaning about the most expensive headache there is.

Politically divided by France and Holland, folk on Saint Martin Island speak English — Factographs. Sounds like a happy compromise.

Pigs, according to an agriculture item, prefer to wallow in "clean mud." But — where can you find it?

Russia's big Red boss, Nikita Khrushchev, we read, has become an ardent badminton enthusiast. That guy, it seems, just naturally likes to bat things around.

East Side School Teacher Is Honored

Mrs. Gladys Arnold of 22 Broadway, Frostburg, who has been a member of the faculty at East Side School for over 30 years, retired at the end of the present term.

The faculty of East Side recently held a dinner in her honor at Stoops' Restaurant, Frostburg.

With the exception of the period from 1934 to 1939 when she was at Virginia Avenue School, Mrs. Arnold has been at East Side since entering the teaching profession in 1925 was one of the third grade teachers there.

She is a graduate of State Normal School at Frostburg.

At the faculty dinner, tables were decorated with spring flowers and Candy mint corsages. Mrs. Arnold was presented a school novelty corsage. Table decorations were made by Miss Betty Morgan and Miss Elizabeth Miller.

A social evening followed the dinner. Entertainment consisted of games and music planned by Mrs. Sue Wolfe and Miss Lillie Lashley. Miss Lashley read an original, illustrated poem reminiscent of happenings during the teaching career of Mrs. Arnold. Mrs. Wolfe and Robert Miller, members of the faculty, took movies of the affair.

Mrs. Arnold's fellow teachers presented her a farewell gift. The East Side Parent Teacher Association also honored Mrs. Arnold recently and presented her with a gift.

Faculty members attending were Miss Agnes Lauder, principal, Miss Orpha Clark, Robert Miller, Miss Betty Morgan, Miss Grace Moore, Mrs. Daisy Rosenmerkel, Mrs. Sue Wolfe, Mrs. Lillie Lashley, Miss Elizabeth Miller, Mrs. Mary Dudley, Mrs. Helen Martz, Miss Martha DeVore, Mrs. Juanita Hansrote, school secretary, and Mrs. Margaret Carroll, music resource teacher.

Maryland Has Oldest Official U.S. Flag

According to the chief military historian of the United States, the oldest official American Flag in existence is in the State House of Maryland at Annapolis. It is the banner known as the Flag of Cowpens, so named because, in the Revolution, it was carried at the battle of Cowpens, S. C., 1781.

The chief military historian also believes this is the only national Flag now existing that was made under the provisions of the first Flag Law, passed by the Continental Congress June 14, 1777.

These distinctions have long given the banner deep interest for the State House's thousands of visitors. A distinction of an official nature will be added, however, says George W. Hubley Jr., director of the Maryland Department of Economic Development, if House Bill 744, now in committee, should be passed.

The proposed statute would make Flag Day a legal national holiday, with the same status as the Fourth of July. The new holiday would officially honor the creation of the original American Flag, and Maryland's Flag of Cowpens is the only example of the original American Flag left.

It has always been a Maryland possession. In the Revolution it was the standard of the Maryland Third Infantry. At Cowpens its bearer was a soldier named William Bachellor. He was killed and his family was permitted to keep the flag.

In the War of 1812, when the British attacked Baltimore, William Bachellor's son fought at North Point in the Maryland Twenty-seventh—and carried his father's Revolutionary flag. He lived to be an old man and, at his death, presented the banner to the state.

However, though it served as regimental colors, it is still the national emblem. It is made strictly in accordance with the provisions of the first Flag Law, with 13 stars and 13 stripes. Said Mr. Hubley, "Maryland has long gloried in possession of the oldest officially correct national banner—which is also the only one known that was in both the Revolution and the War of 1812. Now, should Flag Day be made a national holiday, the state's proud possession will be an official object of veneration to the whole American people."

Three Face Charges In Burglary

An Allegany County youth and two young men from Meyersdale are being held in the Garrett County Jail for trial on charges of burglarizing a Route 40 service station west of Grantsville.

The two Meyersdale men are also wanted in Somerset for a series of robberies in which they netted more than $1,000 according to police.

Returned to Garrett County Jail from Anne Arundel County over the weekend were Donald E. House, 20, of Gilmore, and Frank Brown Jr. and James D. Swindell, both 23, Meyersdale.

Sheriff James Frantz of Garrett County said after driving through Somerset County one night last week, the two Meyersdale men spotted House, an acquaintance, hitchhiking along Route 40 near Frostburg.

The three went to a dance at Piedmont, and then returned to Garrett County early Friday morning. They stopped at the Mountain Top Service Station and broke into it, taking a quantity of cigarets, cigars and broke into several coin machines, taking approximately $15 in silver.

Friday night they were stopped on a highway in Anne Arundel County by the county police there during a routine check.

After finding all the various items, a subsequent check with State Police found them answering the description of the loot taken from the service station.

They were returned to Oakland over the weekend and Tuesday waived a preliminary hearing before Magistrate Robert Maroney in Trial Magistrate Court, Oakland.

They are being held under $2,000 property bond or $1,000 cash bond for action of the September grand jury.

However, Sheriff Frantz indicated the three signed petitions, asking for immediate trials in Circuit Court.

Detainers have been filed against the two Meyersdale men by Somerset County authorities.

ACHS Class Of '26 Holds 35th Anniversary Reunion

About 100 members, guests and several former teachers attended the reunion of the class of 1926 of Allegany County High School, marking their 35th anniversary. It was the last class to leave Allegany County High School on Greene Street.

The affair was held at Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club, featured by a dinner and fellowship hour. F. Allan Weatherholt was master of ceremonies.

Dr. Charles L. Kopp, retired superintendent of public schools who was principal when the class graduated, was a guest speaker, as was Miss Kathleen Cumbee, now a teacher at Fort Hill, who served as class advisor. Miss Irene Lapp and Mrs. Florence Warfield, both now retired, were guests of honor and spoke briefly.

Mary Louise Willison King of Arlington, Va., reported on correspondence she has received from a number of classmates, and Kitty Pafel Wilson, class secretary, also reported on a number who were unable to attend.

The class has 126 graduating members, of whom 114 are living. The whereabouts of 110 are recorded and accounted for. Thirty-nine members of the class still live in Cumberland, and a total of 56 reside in Maryland.

Anna Crosser Thwaites conducted a class memorial service for the 12 departed members and Ruth Gleichman Keiter offered the invocation and the benediction.

Members of the class were brought up to date on recent happenings to some of their classmates, in a report by Betty Brengle Thompson, historian.

Mrs. Thompson had as her guests, besides here husband, her father C. Guy Brengle, Rose Hill Avenue, who graduated from Allegany County High School 65 years ago, and her daughter, Peggy Thompson Shaffer, who graduated from Allegany High School five years ago.

Randolph Millholland, paymaster at the Kelly Springfield Tire Company and recently retired from National Guard service; Carl N. Everstine, Baltimore, head of the Department of Legislative Reference for the state of Maryland; Harry B. Schramm of Leechburg, Pa.; Frederick E. Harrison, St. Petersburg Beach, Fla.; Chester Everline, LaVale; and others had parts in the festivities.

Mrs. Wilson was presented with a gift from the class for the work she has done each year in preparation of the annual dinners and reunions.

Mrs. Frances Wagner Shafferman presented a number of awards to the classmates, and favors were provided for the ladies and guests.

Harry Parker, class president, Mrs. Wilson, secretary, Mr. Everline, vice president, and Mrs. Shafferman, treasurer, were re-elected to serve for five years.

The class holds a reunion each five years for all class members and each year the local and nearby people attend a dinner meeting.

A replica of the Alligewi, the class yearbook, was prepared and distributed, bringing the record of the class members up to date.

The Hanseatic League was a loose but effective organization of north German towns, functioning principally for trade purposes.

The CENTENNIAL SCRAPBOOK

The War for the Union 1861-65 in Pictures

No. 23 The transfer of the Confederate capital from Montgomery to Richmond, decided on in May 1861, was one of the most unrealistic and unfortunate moves made by the Rebel Congress.

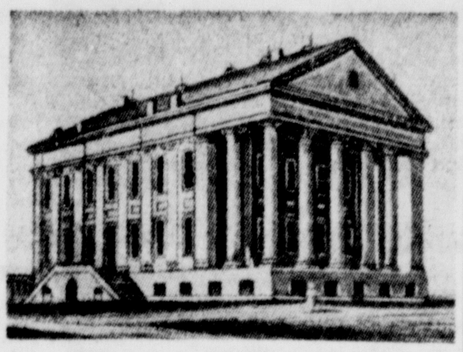

No sensible explanation for it is to be found. Possibly Virginians, who had forced the new federal government to leave New York in 1789 for a temporary return to Philadelphia, and then to locate on the border of Virginia, were assertive at Montgomery as soon as the Old Dominion seceded in 1861.

In his engrossing new history, "The Hidden Face of the Civil War" (published by Bobbs-Merrill), Otto Eisenschiml says, "Various reasons were given for this decision, none valid. Some sycophants claimed that Davis' presence so close to the fighting front would insure the victory. On the contrary, the very prospect that the coming conflict would be fought on Virginia soil should have shown the fallacy of transferring the capital to Richmond."

The Confederates gave up a capital (at Montgomery) which was so securely located that no Union forces came near it until the last days of the war.

—Clark Kinnaird

Seek More Financing

NEW YORK (UPI)—The gas industry will seek $10 to $15 billion over the next decade from Wall Street and other financial sources, President Lester T. Potter of the American Gas Association said Wednesday. Potter told the New York Society of Security Analysts that the industry spent $14 billion on expansion during the 1950s and that at the start of 1961, its plant was worth about $21.8 billion.

No wonder the English keep so cool!

(mix Gordon's Gin in a tall, iced drink–and you will, too!)

The English are not easily fazed, even by summer heat. This national talent was given a cheerful accompaniment in 1769, when Alexander Gordon introduced his remarkable gin. The Gordon's you drink today harks back to his original formula, because one does not tamper with gin of such distinctive dryness and flavour. Try it soon in a tangy Gin & Tonic or Tom Collins. You'll see why, summer and winter, Gordon's Gin is the biggest seller in England, America, and indeed – the world!

Baltimore Court Bill Subject Of Suit

Irregularities Seen In Petitions

BALTIMORE (AP) — The petition fight over one act of the Maryland General Assembly landed in the courts Wednesday.

At the same time, Secretary of State Lloyd L. Simpkins said there appeared to be irregularities in petitions to have two other bills voted on in the 1962 general election.

The bill creating Baltimore's Municipal Court was the subject of an injunction suit filed in Baltimore City Circuit Court by Baltimore attorney Howard C. Bregel, chairman of the Permanent Commission on the Municipal Court.

"The express will of the legislative representatives of the people of Maryland is being defeated. . ." Bregel said of referendum petitions against the bill. He asked that the act be continued in full force and effect.

Taxpayers Suit

Bregel's taxpayer suit also asked that Simpkins be prohibited from putting the Municipal Court matter on the 1962 ballot and that James H. Pollack and Clark Robertson of Baltimore, who filed petitions against the bill be enjoined from taking any action in any court.

Bregel also asked the Circuit Court to declare the Municipal Court petitions null and void. Maryland Atty. Gen. Thomas B. Finan had said Tuesday night that the petitions on that bill did not have enough signatures to force a referendum.

Finan said the petitions contained 28,664 signatures but only 8,429 of those obtained in Baltimore City were valid and only 850 of those in the counties were valid. To suspend the June 1 effective date of the Municipal Court bill, 2,500 signatures from the city and an equal number from the counties are needed.

Screen Signatures

The Municipal Court bill and another measure regulating Maryland's savings and loan industry both were re-enacted by the General Assembly in a special session last Friday. This continued them in effect until the 1962 general election, assuming the referendum petitions were valid.

Simpkins told Finan Wednesday there also appeared to be irregularities in petitions against the savings and loan bill and another measure creating an 8th Congressional District in Maryland. He asked the attorney general to screen carefully the signatures on those petitions as well.

On the savings and loan bill, Simpkins said that among the 11,853 petition signatures purporting to be from Baltimore City, 31 signers were residents of Baltimore County.

"You will note," he said, "that one petition bearing 26 signatures has no notary seal and neither is the official certifying as to the affidavit designated as a justice of the peace. Three of the petitions show hand-drawn seals, rather than the official notary seal."

Other Irregularities

A letter of transmittal officially seeking a referendum on the congressional district bill went to the attorney general's office Wednesday. The petitions contained the signatures of 28,228 individuals.

"I would like to bring to your attention," Simpkins wrote Finan, "that four of these petitions which contain 75 signatures do not have notary seals. I would also like to advise that residents of two or more counties have placed their signatures on several of the (city) petitions."

Simpkins also had called Finan's attention to the irregularities in the Municipal Court petitions.

"We compared the list of names on each paper with the official lists of registered voters," Finan said of the petitions against the court bill. "We found that in many instances the affidavits are false in declaring that of the circulator's own knowledge all of the signatories are registered voters, as set out next to their names, when such is not the case."

Finan also said many signatures "obviously had been tampered with" and there were many others in which more than one name "obviously . . . was written with the same hand."

Twa assistant attorneys general said Wednesday night they sent five of the Municipal Court petition forms to the Baltimore Police Department for laboratory analysis.

Robert F. Sweeney and James P. Garland of the State Law Department said their examination indicated four booklets apparently contained names all signed by the same hand. They said a fifth booklet appeared to have about half the names written by the same person.

They said any laboratory evidence confirming their conclusions would be turned over to the state's attorney for prosecution.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD — There needn't be any more guessing about who will play the title role in "A Girl Named Tamiko." Hal Wallis tells me that France Nuyen will play opposite Laurence Harvey.

"Does that mean that Dolores Hart is out?" I asked him. He said no, that there are two top femme roles and while it isn't settled about Dolores and he doesn't know whether her time will fit into it, there is a strong possibility she may be signed for the third starring role.

John Sturges, who is directing Ed Anhalt's script in mid-November, will make part of the movie in Japan and part at the Hollywood Paramount Studio.

In New York for just a few days, Sam Spiegel said that Alec Guinness had agreed to play the role of Auda in "Lawrence of Arabia."

Sam said that the location in Jordan, where the picture is being filmed, is twice as difficult as was the location for "African Queen" in Africa, and "Bridge over the River Kwai" in Ceylon. Let's hope this movie is as good as its predecessors.

Laurence Olivier joins the company very soon. Sam really flew to New York to talk to him about his role.

So many letters asking why Groucho Marx' show, which had a high rating, is off the air, that I telephoned Groucho for the truth. He tells me that although he had two sponsors NBC said they had no time slot for him.

I also asked him about the TV cartoon series of the Marx Brothers which I heard was in the works. He said there has been some discussion of bringing the Marx Brothers back in a cartoon comedy.

I also talked to Chico Marx who said he is very much better now and feeling well again.

That very fine actor, Efrem Zimbalist Jr., says he will step out of his private detective role in "77 Sunset Strip" long enough to do some scenery chewing in the role of the noted actor Edwin Booth in "The Prince of Darkness," which will be a segment in the "Bronco" TV series at Warners.

Zimbalist added that many offers keep coming in from collectors who want to buy his 1934 Packard touring car, that he says he won't sell even for $10,000.

There's apparently nothing to stop Jason Robards Jr., and Lauren Bacall from getting married now. Jason's wife, Rachel, obtained a Mexican divorce early in May 1961.

From a friend who is in Zurich comes the news that Robards discovered he couldn't qualify under French or Swiss law to marry, and he couldn't leave "Tender is the Night," his movie, long enough to meet Italian requirements. Some of Lauren Bacall's good friends in New York were hoping she would think twice before she and Robards marry.

Eleanor Parker brought back from Rome a script on the life of Mother Cabrini, the only American saint. "You know," said Eleanor, "Curtis Bernhardt directed me in 'Interrupted Melody,' just about the best picture I ever made to work with him again. He and Joseph Justman are making the story of Mother Cabrini.

"The script is not complete but it looks as if I will make it. We will film it in Rome and in Chicago where Mother Cabrini lived. It's a very interesting story and I am eager to do it," Eleanor said, adding that she is so glad to be home she is happy Mother Cabrini is in the future.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

Nice compliment for Danny Kaye. He has officially been named regional director of the world by UNICEF for his work with the children of the world.

Any day now there will be a little brother or sister for child prodigy Ginny Tiu. Her mother, Mrs. William Tiu, who already has eight children, expects a ninth.

Peggy Lee sails July 6 on the SS United States for her engagement in London at the Club Pigalle. She's taking her teenage daughter Nicki with her.

Good news that Gene Tierney is well and happy with her husband Howard Lee in Houston. They are planning to go to Aspen, Colo., for the summer.

There is a beautiful photograph of Monsignor Daniel Sullivan of the church of the Good Shepherd in the Paris Match Magazine. It was taken without his knowledge when he was leaving the Gary Cooper home.

If Bob Goldstein does return to England everybody who knows him is going to be sorry. He's very kind and considerate and never had a chance to prove what he can do. His two sisters have already returned to London and Bob is in New York.

"Soldiers Three," the Frank Sinatra movie shooting at Kanab, Utah, is very welcome there and Frank has further cemented the relationship with the town by spending over $5,000 for gym equipment, football gear, electric lawn mowers, and other things for the local high school.

At Chasen's, Jerry Nathanson and Haya Harareet were with Joan Cohn — reckon Laurence Harvey had to work.

Gene Markey, who served as an admiral under Lord Louis Mountbatten during World War II, has written a book about the British leader titled "Mountbatten." Gene and Lucille (Mrs. M.) are in England attending the British Derby.

Leo Carrillo tells me his book is arleady in galley proof and Prentice Hall will bring it out in September.

Art Kassel starts his new weekly TV show Friday at 7:30 from Myron's ballroom. He wires me, since he plays all my favorites, that he is playing "The First Lady Waltz," Ned Washington and Jimmy McHugh's new number which is gaining momentum.

Chipped nail polish? Not when these tricks cope with emergencies.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

First Aid For Chipped Nail Polish

There's no explaining away chipped nail polish. It simply marks you down as careless, no matter how understandable sudden damage is on a busy day.

Tricks must be learned to cope with emergencies wherever you are, and a well-supplied kit at the office is their mainstay. It should include polish in the shade you are wearing, emery boards, remover, over-coating, patching equipment and perhaps a bottle of almost clear polish.

Of course, the best plan is a complete re-do of nails that are chipped, but sometimes chips can be filled in lightly and new polish applied over the whole nails after filled-in spots dry.

If the top of the nail has torn off, filing to the top of the polish line may be remedy enough, but a split nail demands patching equipment. The book of thin patching tissues and the transparent cement needed may be purchased wherever complete manicure supplies are sold. They save the nail until it grows out again.

If several nails are chipped and there's little time, it may be easier and more successful to remove all deeper polish and apply a single coat of the nearly clear polish. This polish may be tinged with pink, but application does not demand the care and number of steps that red shades do. It does make the nails look carefully polished.

Apply a light colorless top coat to your nails every day so to ward off chipping, and this is a good idea just before leaving the office for a date. Carry an emery board in your handbag so it's always possible to file lightly and thus remove signs of polish wear or slight chipping.

In a sudden emergency, away from better help, fill in the chip with lipstick.

Dr. Church Will Head Tri-Valley Scout District

KEYSER — Dr. Ernest E. Church, president of Potomac State College, was elected chairman of the Tri-Valley Boy Scout District at the annual meeting of district officials in Keyser. He will serve during the 1960-61 scout year starting in July. J. Robert Panner, Keyser, was elected to the position of district commissioner.

Dr. Church has been affiliated with the Boy Scouts of America since 1928 and has served as head of the six-county, Maryland-West Virginia Potomac Council area as well as president of the Kootaga Area Council at Parkersburg, W. Va. He was awarded the Boy Scouts of America Silver Beaver award by the Kootaga Area Council. This award is given for distinguished service to boyhood within the jurisdiction of a local Council and is the highest award that a scout Council may make for exceptional service by registered scouters.

President of Potomac State College since 1936, Dr. Church holds a BA degree from Waynesburg (Pa.) College and a Master's degree from West Virginia University. Waynesburg College conferred upon him a Doctor of Laws degree.

He is a member of the West Virginia State Education Association and is a life member of the National Education Association. A past president of the West Virginia Council of State College and University Presidents, he served as secretary from 1945 to 1956. Dr. Church has served as president of the West Virginia Secondary School Principals Association and the West Virginia Education Association as well as president and secretary of the West Virginia Intercollegiate Athletic Conference.

Keyser High Remodeling Work Starts

KEYSER — Remodeling of a lumber storage room into an additional industrial arts room at Keyser High School is now underway, according to E. M. Welshonce, assistant superintendent of Mineral County schools, who said an expansion program in that department is planned for next fall.

KHS Principal James W. Goldsworthy said that heretofore the school was able to accommodate four classes of Shop 1 for eighth grade boys and one class of Shop 2 for 18 or 20 freshmen youths. However, the new room will allow two sections of Shop 2 and one of Shop 3.

Tentative plans also call for an expansion of the art program and the addition of a class in arts and crafts.

Lester R. McDowell, who has been manual training instructor and art supervisor at the school for a number of years will teach part of Shop 2, all of Shop 3, art, and practical arts. An additional teacher will be hired by the County Board for all of Shop 1 and one class of Shop 2.

Mr. Welshonce said maintenance men throughout the county are also busy working at other schools. Interior painting is being done at Wiley Ford and Short Gap, exterior painting of Piedmont Elementary and Keyser elementary buildings, and the inside and outside of New Creek Elementary School.

Workers are rebuilding a stone wall in front of the Piedmont Elementary School and replacing a retaining wall at Beryl, a continuation of a project begun last fall.

Maris Belts 22d Homer In 11-5 Victory

Tribe Toppled Into Tie For First As Ford Wins 10th

CLEVELAND (UPI) — Roger Maris hit his 22nd homer of the season and Bobby Richardson connected for his first Wednesday night to lead the New York Yankees to a 11-5 victory over the Cleveland Indians that dropped the Tribe into a first-place tie in the American League.

Whitey Ford won his 10th game of the season against two defeats but needed help from Luis Arroyo in the eighth inning of the free-swinging contest.

Maris' homer came in the fourth inning with a man on and wiped out the one run lead which the Indians took in the second inning when Ford fumbled pitcher Gary Bell's bunt allowing Johnny Romano to score from third.

The Yankees scored three in the sixth on three singles, two walks and a costly error by Johnny Temple who let a double-play ball go between his legs.

The Indians got one run back in their half of the sixth on Woodie Held's double and Bubba Phillips' single. Bell went out in the sixth for a pinch-hitter and was replaced by Johnny Antonelli.

The Yankees scored four runs off the former Giant ace in the seventh on two walks, a single and Richardson's home run with two men on.

The Indians came back with three runs in their half of the seventh on a single by Temple, Jimmy Piersall's double, a sacrifice fly and a home run by Chuck Essegian, his fourth of the year.

Lary Records 10th Victory

Detroit Hurler Beats Bosox, 4-2

DETROIT (AP) — Frank Lary beat the errror-prone Boston Red Sox and recorded his 10th victory Wednesday as he pitched the Detroit Tigers to a 4-2 triumph.

The Red Sox committed five errors and allowed the Tigers two unearned runs. Three of the errors were by the usually reliable third baseman, Frank Malzone.

Lary, who has lost only three times, was brilliant until the eighth. He was working on a three-hitter when he weakened and allowed three singles to load the bases. Malzone drove in Boston's first run with a sacrifice fly and Russ Nixon singled home the other.

The Tigers picked up their first run in the second off loser Billy Muffett and added three in the fourth. Lary Osborne led off the Tiger second with a walk. He reached second on Malzone's low throw on an attempted force play. Jake Wood singled Osborne home.

Singles by Chico Fernandez and Jake Wood and Billy Bruton's triple accounted for two runs in the fourth. Bruton then scored when Malzone bobbled Charlie Maxwell's easy roller.

Lary allowed eight hits in pitching a complete game for the 10th time.

Bailey Paces Giants To 11-2 Win Over Braves

Catcher Smashes 2 Homers, Two Singles

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— Ed Bailey, enjoying a perfect day at the plate, smashed two home runs Wednesday and singled home the go-ahead tally while the San Francisco Giants were overpowering the Milwaukee Braves 11-2.

The burly catcher singled across the tie-breaker during a seven-run splurge in the seventh inning which was the biggest for the Giants this season.

Four of the runs were unearned, being set up when first baseman Joe Adcock lost a foul fly by Willie McCovey to keep the uprising going.

Bailey and Willie Mays homered in the second inning off loser Warren Spahn to get the Giants off to a 2-0 lead. Then the San Francisco backstopper clubbed his sixth of the year in the eighth for his third RBI of the game. Mays also had a total of three runs batted in.

Back-to-back home runs in the fifth inning by Milwaukee's Frank Thomas and Joe Torre tied the score at 2-2.

Spahn, who was seeking the 296th win of his career, was taken out during the seventh and now has a season mark of 7-7. Juan Marichal held the Braves to five hits and went the distance to balance his season mark at 3-3.

Herbert Hurls Three-Hit Game

CHICAGO (UPI)—Ray Herbert threw a three-hitter at the Los Angeles Angels Wednesday night to pitch the Chicago White Sox to a 4-1 victory in the first game of a twi-night doubleheader.

Herbert, obtained in a trade last Saturday with the Kansas City Athletics, faced only 29 batters and struck out six in his successful debut with the White Sox.

Herbert was forced to leave the mound briefly to wash his hands in the ninth inning when plate umpire Sam Carrigan complained they were dirty and distracted the batters.

Beyond that his only trouble came in the fourth inning when Leon Wagner's home run robbed him of a possible shutout.

The White Sox tagged Los Angeles starter Johnny James for two runs in the first inning on a pair of walks and Roy Sievers' double. Singles by Andy Carey and Herbert chased James in the second inning and Nellie Fox greeted reliever Jim Donohue with a run-scoring double.

The White Sox scored their fourth run in the sixth when Minnie Minoso lofted a bases-loaded sacrifice fly.

Stuart Hits Triple, Wins Game, 5 To 4

Shantz Is Victor In Ninth-Inning Comeback By Bucs

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — First baseman Dick Stuart lashed a "wrong field" triple with one out in the ninth inning Wednesday night to drive in two runs and give the Pittsburgh Pirates a 5-4 victory over the Cincinnati Reds.

The blow, which came off reliever Jim Brosnan, bounced off the rightfield screen and brought home Dick Groat and Robert Clemente who hit back-to-back singles and raised Stuart's RBI production to four for the night.

He hit a bases empty home run in the first inning off starter Jim O'Toole to give the Pirates a 2-0 lead and in the seventh inning he singled to bring Clemente home with a run that tied the score at 3-3.

The climactic finish was typical of the Pirates come-from-behind pattern that spurred them to their first World Championship in 35 years last season.

With the score 4-3, Bill Virdon struck out in the ninth. Groat singled to right and Brosnan was waved in from the bullpen. Clemente then came to bat and the colorful rightfielder had a one-two count when he changed bats. The very next pitch he tapped into the front of the plate, and with a burst of speed he beat out the hit.

Stuart swung and missed an outside pitch but caught the next delivery for the spine-tingling finish.

The Pirates got their other run in the first inning when Virdon led off with a triple and scored on O'Toole's wild pitch.

Nats Defeat Orioles, 5-1

Donovan Pitches Six-Hit Victory

BALTIMORE (UPI) — The Washington Senators scored all their runs in the second inning Wednesday night to record their first win of the year over the Baltimore Orioles, 5-1 behind the six-hit pitching of "hard luck" Dick Donovan.

The victory was the third in a row for Donovan, who lost his first five games by one run.

Donovan surrendered the lone Baltimore run in the first inning on a walk to Brooks Robinson, a force play, and a double by Jackie Brandt.

The Senators opened their second inning explosion when Willie Tasby singled. Gene Green followed with his seventh home run of the season. After Church Cottier walked, Jim Mahoney nudged a roller through the infield that sent Cottier to third. Donovan's infield chop got another run across.

Danny O'Connell walked to load the bases and Gene Woodling then looped a single to drive in the game's final two runs.

U.S. Open Golf Championship To Get Underway Today

Gary Player, Palmer Head Field Of 150

Snead And Hogan Return For Go At 6,907-Yard Layout

By DON WEISS

BIRMINGHAM, Mich. (AP) — Arnold Palmer, cool and bold, and Gary Player, the cocky bantam from South Africa, resume their "duel of '61" Thursday, heading a select field of 150 in the 61st U.S. Open Golf Championship.

It's the first official crack for Masters champion Player and defending Open champion Palmer at Oakland Hills, a challenging, masterpièce of a golf course that the great Ben Hogan termed "The Monster" when he won his third of four Open titles here in 1951.

The 6,907 yards of tight and rolling fairways, yawning traps, and cantankerous greens plays to a par of 35-35—70 and will ultimately tell the story of this premier tournament of American golf.

Snead, Hogan Back

And hereabouts, most will tell you that either Palmer or Player probably will be at the top of the list when it is over late Saturday afternoon.

Hogan, at 48 still the best tee-to-green golfer around, is back seeking an unprecedented fifth championship. Also back is Sam Snead, the 49-year-old wonder who has grabbed in vain for the Open title 20 consecutive times.

By Palmer's estimation, Hogan, Snead, Doug Ford and Tommy Bolt have games suited to Oakland Hills. Jack Nicklaus, the bulky kid who heads 23-man amateur challenge, has been playing well in practice. So have Walt Burkemo, former PGA champion who formerly was an assistant pro here and knows the twists and turns of the greens, and Billy Casper, the 1959 Open king and a putting master.

See Another Chapter

Most look, however, for another chapter of the Player-Palmer duel that opened dramatically at Augusta National in April with Player winning the Masters by a single stroke from Palmer.

They have something special to aim at, besides the prestige and the $14,000 first money. Player attempts to become the first foreigner to win the Open since Britain's Ted Ray in 1920. Palmer, who won at Cherry Hills in Denver last year, will be trying to become the first defending champion to repeat since Hogan's back-to-back titles in 1950-51.

Little Leaguer Dies In Game

Player Was Struck In Throat By Ball

COCOA, Fla. (UPI) —A 12-year-old Little League baseball player collapsed and died on the field Wednesday after being struck in the throat by a pitched ball.

The youngster, Brumit Estes, was the second Little Leaguer in the nation to be killed during action this spring.

Harry Babcock was fatally struck in the vagus nerve, which controls the heart action, by a pitched ball in a Little League game at Los Angeles May 17.

Officers said Estes was catching for the Moose Club's team during the third inning when a pitched ball struck home plate and bounced up to hit him in the throat between his chest protector and catcher's mask.

He fell down," said Lt. Ozzie Carlton of the Coca Police Department, "then got up, threw the ball back to the pitcher and collapsed again."

Carlton said that from the time he received the first call, the boy was rushed to the hospital within 18 minutes. But artificial respiration administered by fire department officials failed to bring him around.

Brundage Expects Fight With Soviet

ATHENS (UPI)—Avery Brundage, president of the International Olympic Committee, arrived here Wednesday and quickly drew the battle lines for a dispute with Russia over increasing the size of the committee.

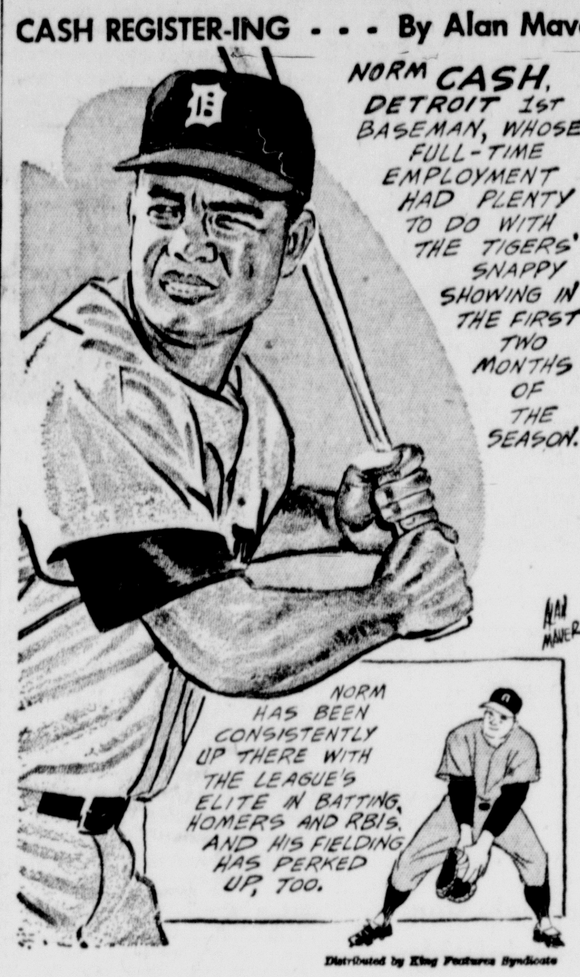

Brundage, hard-bitten veteran of many an international dispute, predicted there will be "some fighting" when the Soviets try to boost the membership of the IOC during the committee meetings here this week and next.

Baltimore Signs Bonus Outfielder

BALTIMORE (AP) — Lawrence Clayton, 21-year-old outfielder from Henderson, N. C., was signed by the Baltimore Orioles Wednesday to a Class C contract with Aberdeen, S. D. of the Northern League.

An Oriole spokesman said Clayton received a "sizable bonus," but he declined to say how much money was involved.

Johnson, Jackson Clash Today For CCC Golf Title

Finalists Tee Off At 11 A.M. In Spring Tourney

Steve Johnson, young Fort Hill High School student, and Orville W. "Stony" Jackson, coach of Flintstone High, will clash for the men's spring handicap golf tournament championship today at the Cumberland Country Club.

Tee off time for the 18-hole finale is 11 a. m.

This will be the 39th title round in the CCC spring tourney which has been held every year since its beginning with the exception of the war years—1943, 1944 and 1945 when activities were suspended.

It will be the first time young Johnson has reached the finals of the spring event.

Stony Jackson is a finalist in the spring tourney for the third time in six years, but has yet to win a title.

In 1956 Jackson reached the finals for the first time but fell before George Petras, 3 and 1. Two years ago, "Stony" got within shooting distance of the championship but lost to Joe Wolfe in the finals, 1 up in the 18th hole.

This is actually the fourth time that Jackson will be getting a shot at a CCC championship. After losing to Petras in the 1956 spring tourney, he also bowed to Charles S. Catherman Jr., in the fall tourney finale, 9 and 8.

Neither player has won a spring or fall tournament so the ice will be broken by one of them today.

Hockey Draft, Trades Switch 12 Players

Hawks Get Horvath From Boston Bruins

MONTREAL (AP) — Twelve players switched teams, four by trades and eight in the annual National Hockey League draft Wednesday. The acquisition of Bronco Horvath by the Chicago Black Hawks and Guy Gendron by the New York Rangers highlighted the draft session.

Eddie Litzenberger, 28, veteran forward and captain of the Black Hawks, was swapped to Detroit for forwards Jerry Melnyk and Brian Smith.

The Rangers sent Lou Fontinato, 29-year-old defenseman, to Montreal and completed the deal that brought Doug Harvey to New York as player-coach.

The Hawks, Stanley Cup Champions, drafted center Horvath from the Boston Bruins. He scored 39 goals two years ago and lead the league.

Gendron, who plays left wing, was obtained from the Montreal Canadiens. He returns to the Rangers for whom he played for three seasons starting in 1955-6. He scored 24 times two years ago and had 10 goals and 19 assists in 1960-1.

Boston drafted three players — defenseman Pat Stapleton, and forward Earl Balfour from Chicago, and center Orland Kurtenbach from New York. The Toronto Maple Leafs selected defenseman Al Arbour from Chicago.

The Rangers also picked up Vic Hadfield, a forward from Chicago, and the Black Hawks got Aut Erickson, a defenseman, from Boston. Purchase price for each of the eight players was $20,000.

Snead Expected At Sistersville

SISTERSVILLE, W. Va. (UPI)—The West Virginia professional golf tournament will return here this year — and Sam Snead also is expected to be back in the field.

Sistersville Country Club professional Homer Shreves said Wednesday the date for the 54-hole medal play event has not been set yet but it probably will be in August.

This will be the fifth time Sistersville has hosted the tournament. Snead won it in 1958 and 1959. Joe Taylor of South Charleston beat Snead in a pressure-packed 36-hole match play final in 1953 and also won here the year before.

Rain Washes Out Games In Local Area

Yesterday's late afternoon rainstorm washed out nearly all baseball and softball action in the Cumberland area with only two Little League contests getting in under the wire.

In the Bi-State Pony League the game between Lonaconing and Mt. Savage on the latter's diamond was called in the second with the score 0-0. The Frostburg Mounties, leading Westernport 8-5, at Westernport saw the game go by the boards in the third inning.

The Rec Softball League contest between Sports Shoppe and Alinco Club was postponed and the Twilight Baseball League at Westernport saw Barton's lead washed away in the fourth because of the rain.

Barrelville held a 4-0 lead over Tri-State Memorial at Cresaptown when the rains came in the third inning of their Pen Mar Little League game and the Senators trailed the Dodgers, 7-5, in the Dapper Dan Little League game at Constitution Park after 1½ innings before the game was called off.

Both Hot Stove League tilts were wiped out with the Salvation Army and B'nai B'rith game getting the gate at Penn Avenue while the Jaycees had an 8-4 edge over the Outdoor Club canceled in the third at Mason Road.

The Hyndman Merchants trailed the Frostburg Merchants, 4-1, in the second inning of their Pen Mar Baseball League game at Frostburg when weather called a halt. Donnie Nave's grand-slam homer for Frostburg was washed away with the rain.

The only games played yesterday saw the Giants whip the Yankees, 10-5, at Post Field and the Red Sox belt the Pirates, 14-3, at Penn Avenue in Dapper Dan Little League action

Vernon Law Has No Muscle Tear

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A physician told pitcher Vernon Law of the Pittsburgh Pirates Wednesday his shoulder muscles show no tear.

Law was given two injections which Dr. Albert Furgeson Jr. said will improve the hurler's condition.

Law, a 20-game winner with the Pirates last year, injured the rotary muscle in his shoulder against Cincinnati last April. This season he has won only three games.

The two boys are Dolph Jr., 21 (left), a second baseman, and Bruce, 19, a first baseman. Both attended Utah State.

Two Americans Surviving In British Golf

Morrow, Timbrook Reach 4th Round

TURNBERRY, Scotland (AP)—Ralph Morrow, a shy airman with a booming golf game, and Henry Timbrook, 40-year-old Los Angeles mortgage banker, moved into the fourth round of the British Amateur Golf Championship—the only American survivors from an original entry of 26.

Morrow, 27-year-old airman first class from Oklahoma City, turned in one of the best victories of the third round Wednesday by defeating Jimmy McHale of Philadelphia, a former Walker Cupper, 4 and 3.

Timbrook scored a 2 and 1 victory over Lindsay Renfrew, a Scottish club golfer, in a match that lasted four hours.

It was drawn out by a series of lost balls and a dispute over the rules that kept both men arguing for three-quarters of an hour on the 11th green.

Seven other Americans went out in the third round on a windy day that saw Joe Carr, the 39-year-old Irishman who is defending his title, snatch victory over Charlie Green, a little known Scot, on the 21st green.

Other results involving American players Wednesday:

Ronnie Shade, Scotland, defeated Frank Bostock, Phoenix, Ariz., 4 and 3.

Charlie Lawrie, captain of Britain's Walker Cup team, defeated Richard Davies, Pasadena, Calif., 2 and 1.

Jimmy Walke, a Scot, defeated Jack Penrose, Miami, Fla., 4 and 3.

Leslie Taylor, England, defeated Mike Korich, Roseville, Calif., 5 and 4.

Gordon Cosh, Scotland, defeated Frank Sugden, Hollywood Hills, Calif., 3 and 2.

Marshall Douglas, Scotland, defeated Lt. Monroe Mitchella, Fort Worth, Tex., 4 and 2.

Thirty-two players are left in the championship being played over the 6,875-yard Turnberry links.

Knicks Get Smith

NEW YORK (UPI) — The New York Knickerbockers Wednesday announced the signing of rookie Bill Smith of St. Peter's College, N.J., who was the team's fifth choice in the annual player draft.

Smith, 6-5, broke all of his school's major scoring records and was picked on the 1961 All-Metropolitan New York City team.

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland (UPI) —Defending champion Kel Nagle of Australia is among 364 entries received for the British Open golf championship to be played at the Royal Birkdale course, Southport, beginning July 10, it was announced Wednesday.

Making his second bid for the title will be last year's runner-up, Arnold Palmer, of Latrobe, Pa.

Entries also include former titleholders Gary Player and Bobby Locke of South Africa.

Yankees, A's Trade Hurlers

Ditmar, Daley Swap Uniforms

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Yankees added left-handed pitching strength Wednesday by acquiring Bud Daley from the Kansas City A's whose owner had said he never would trade with the Yanks.

To get Daley, New York gave up Art Ditmar, a right-handed pitcher, and Deron Johnson, a farm product who was converted from an outfielder to third baseman this year.

The 17th of the New York-Kansas City deals, which involve 64 players since 1955, was the second transaction of the day for the Yanks. Earlier they sent Danny McDevitt, a left-handed relief pitcher, to the Minnesota Twins for Billy Gardner, veteran second baseman and utility infielder.

Charles O. Finley, owner of the A's, said last Friday his club would not be involved in another deal with the Yankees as long as he held the franchise.

Finley, commenting on his change of heart, Wednesday:

"I took the stand I did in the past because, in my opinion, Kansas City got the worst of the deals and the (Kansas City) fans felt they were fleeced.

"But I also must keep in mind at all times that I can't stand on a principle if it's going to hurt the ball club in the end."

Court Rules For Timonium

Race Grounds Are Not Tax Property

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — The race track at the Maryland State Fairground in Timonium is not subject to property taxes, the Court of Appeals ruled Wednesday.

The high court's decision reversed an order of the Baltimore County Circuit Court which said the Maryland State Fair and Agricultural Society was subject to 1959 property taxes on the "race track section" of the fairgrounds.

The Baltimore County court defined the race track section as 42.9 acres of the society's 83.4-acre fairground. The remainder of the fairground was classified the "exhibition section" and ruled tax exempt.

The Court of Appeals said the facts in the case showed "the uses of the land and buildings where the horse racing is conducted and the land used for the midway are reasonably necessary for the educational purposes of the society" and are therefore tax exempt.

"The midway and horse racing features are an integral part and parcel of the fair itself. They are not separate enterprises," Judge Stedman Prescott said in the court's opinion.

"To attempt to operate the fair without the midway or the horse racing would be . . . like putting on the play of 'Hamlet' without the character, Hamlet."

The State and Baltimore County had alleged in their arguments that "the use of the subject property primarily for horse racing with pari-mutuel betting is neither educational nor necessary for the educational use of the balance of appellant's property."

The total tax bill in question is $754,495—$700,800 for buildings and $53,695 for land.

Nicky Warren won all seven decisions for the North Carolina baseball team this spring.

Player, Palmer Exhibition Series Being Arranged

CLEVELAND (AP) — Arrangements are being made for a series of exhibition golf matches between Gary Player and Arnold Palmer with more than $100,000 in prize money at stake, a Cleveland attorney announced Wednesday.

Attorney Mark McCormack, who represents both golfers, said tentative plans call for a series of 25 matches starting at St. Andrews, Scotland, July 4. About half the matches would be played in this country, McCormack said.

Player of South Africa, the Master's champion, is the leading money winner on the professional golf circuit this year, with some $50,000 in prize money, and Palmer is only about $6,000 behind him.

Dean Signs Pact

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Fullback Ted Dean, who scored the touchdown that clinched the world championship for the Philadelphia Eagles last season, has signed his 1961 contract, the club announced Wednesday.

The first jockey to account for a triple crown was Johnny Loftus, who rode Sir Barton to victory in the Kentucky Derby, Preakness and Belmont Stakes of 1919.

Cardinals Sign Bonus Infielder

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — Floyd Wicker, highly touted 17-year-old third baseman from East Carolina Teachers, has signed with the St. Louis Cardinals.

Walter Shannon, Cardinal farm director, said the young infielder, who was picked on the NAIA all star team, signed for a substantial bonus.

Dapper Giants, Red Sox Score Rain-Swept Wins

The Giants defeated the Yankees, 10-5, at Post Field and the Red Sox walloped the Pirates, 14-3, at Penn Avenue, in a pair of rain-swept games in the Dapper Division of the Dapper Dan Little League yesterday.

Two contests in the Dan Division were rained out. The Braves and Athletics game at Allegany was called off and Dodgers-Senators contest at Constitution Park was halted at the end of 1½ innings with the Dodgers leading 7-5.

The Giants backed Danny Young's six-hit pitching with an extra base attack that included a double by Rusty Kunis and a pair of triples by Larry Young and Steve Clark. The victory was he first for the Giants.

The Yankees, losing their opener, were paced at the plate by Wright and Elliott with two hits apiece. The contest was played in the rain.

The Red Sox piled up a 13-0 lead in the first three innings then hung on to hand the Pirates their second straight loss in a game which was called at the end of five innings because of the rain.

Bob Fisher was the winning pitcher for the Red Sox who evened their record at 1-1 for the year. Jerry Growden was the batting star for the Red Sox, belting a three-run homer and two singles to bat in seven runs. The results:

Liston Wins Case Delay

Court Hearing Is Rescheduled July 1

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Sonny Liston, the nation's No. 1 contender for the heavyweight boxing crown, stood silent in Magistrate's Court Wednesday as he won a delay until July 1 to answer charges of disorderly conduct, conspiracy and impersonating a policeman.

Liston's manager, George Katz, said the fighter's lawyer was in California for two weeks. Magistrate M. Philip Freed promptly granted a continuance.

Katz posted the $300 bond. He also provided bail for Liston's co-defendant, Isaac Cooper, 26, whose case was similarly continued.

The two men were arrested before dawn Monday after an 80-mile

Sluggish Market Makes Mild Recovery Wednesday

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market recovered moderately Wednesday from two straight sessions of sharp decline. Trading continued slow by 1961 standards.

Volume rose to 3.43 million shares from 3.03 million in Tuesday's decline.

The market was irregular in early trading, then moved to the upside on balance, but with no special enthusiasm. Late in the day prices softened and the list managed to end with an advance.

U.S. Steel picked up a point. News that this company is boosting production at its big Gary works in the Chicago area counterbalanced latest reports indicating further price cuts in certain steel items. But analysts regarded the small stock market rise as more technical than anything else.

Of the 1,232 issued traded, gainers outnumbered losers by the narrow margin of 544 to 476. The balance of new highs and lows for the year re-shifted in favor of new highs, these totaling 30 to 19 lows.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose a modest .30 to 248.30 with industrials up .70 while both rails and utilities were unchanged.

The Dow Jones industrial average rose 1.66 to 695.81.

American Stock Exchange prices were generally higher as volume rose to 1.63 million shares from Tuesday's 1.4 million.

Corporate bonds were mixed. U.S. government bonds declined.

Corporate volume on the New York Stock Exchange totaled $5.4 million par value compared with $5.22 million Tuesday.

Strip Mine Case Heard In Local Court

Frostburg Man Faces Two Charges

The first case in Allegany County involving strip mining without a permit was heard yesterday afternoon in Trial Magistrate Court.

Charged with two violations of the Maryland mining laws was Paul Coleman, RFD 1, Frostburg, who had been working two strip mine operations in the Mt. Savage area.

Coleman was charged on June 7 with operating a strip mine without posting the required cash bond with the Maryland Bureau of Mines, and with exceeding the amount of acreage covered by his bond and permit to strip-mine coal.

The case was heard by Magistrate F. Allan Weatherholt, who continued it until Wednesday, June 28, in order for the prosecution to summon additional witnesses.

Posted No Bond

Frank Powers, Frostburg, who is director of the Maryland Bureau of Mines, testified yesterday he visited the strip mining operation where Coleman was working. He stated Coleman had failed to post the necessary cash bond with the bureau.

Mr. Powers said that under Maryland law, strip mine operators must post a minimum bond of $1,200 for four acres and must have a permit approved by the state which specifies the exact number of acres involved in the mine operation. For every additional acre over the minimum of four acres the operator plans to mine, he must post an additional $300, Mr. Powers added.

A bond is forfeited if the strip mine operator fails to refill and reforest the land involved in the mine operation covered by the permit.

Pictures Introduced

Thomas B. Powell, Frostburg, a district mine inspector for the state, also testified yesterday and produced pictures of the areas which were worked by Coleman.

The two mine officials testified the Frostburg coal operator had posted bond to work four acres, but actually had worked 4.9 acres.

Although the violation of strip mining without posting bond is a misdemeanor, the penalty calls for a minimum fine of $5,000 and a maximum fine of $10,000.

Coleman was represented yesterday by Earl E. Manges, local attorney, and Donald W. Mason, assistant state's attorney, prosecuted the case for the state.

Craft Classes Set Today For Play Leaders

City playground leaders will go to school today for intensive instruction on the handicrafts they will supervise during the nine-week playground season which opens here Monday.

The instruction and practice in craft work will be offered at the class which opens at 10 a.m. in the North End field house as part of the training institute for play leaders.

Instruction will be in charge of Mrs. Marian Wilson, arts and crafts instructor, assisted by Mrs. Maxine Zehrbach and Mrs. Jean Beckward.

Featured during the session, and this year's playground craft program, will be articles made of felt. They will include bookmarks, small purses, lapel bangles, collars and silhouette pictures.

Demonstrations on sand craft, sawdust clay modeling and the making of articles from plastic containers are planned.

Mrs. Eva Hogan, general playground supervisor, said a display table will be set up to show representative arts and crafts work done on playgrounds last year.

Snake Killed In South End

There was reason for excitement in South End last night — a youngster killed a large snake in the neighborhood of Springdale and Second streets.

One person who did not know the identification of the reptile, said it measured about three feet in length and about an inch in diameter.

She said the snake was killed by Jackie Yarnall, who is about 14, and lives on Second Street. The youth learned the snake was in the neighborhood, ran to his house and got a hoe and killed it.

A large group of youngsters were attracted to the scene to view the large snake.

Cumberland Man To Get Degree In Baltimore

Paul J. Buchholtz Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul J. Buchholtz, LaVale, will receive a B.S. degree in industrial management today from the University of Baltimore.

He has been able to complete his degree requirements by attending night school for six years, since moving to Baltimore in 1955.

A 1947 graduate of Allegany High School, he worked for his father for three years and served in the Air Force from 1950 to 1954. He was a radar operator and manager of a noncommissioned officers club at Neah Bay, Wash. He held the rank of staff sergeant at the time of his discharge.

When he moved to Baltimore in 1955 he became shipping foreman for Marietta Concrete Corporation. In 1959 he was promoted to branch plant manager of Farm Silo Division of Marietta Concrete Division of American Marietta Company.

He resides in Baltimore with his wife, the former Miss Molly Pitcher, and their four children. Mrs. Buchholtz is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald W. Pitcher, 308 Schley Street.

County ASC Makes Report On 1960 Work

Farm Programs Were Administered

The Allegany County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee has issued a report on its operations for 1960, which included work on five programs.

Bradye H. Dolly, chairman of the committee, reports that last year's work was performed in the agricultural conservation program, conservation reserve, wheat acreage allotment and marketing quotas, wool program and performance program.

In the agricultural conservation program for 1960, 130 farms received $19,774 in a cost-share payments under ACP. Several practices in this program were performed under the supervision of the Soil Conservation Service and the State Forestry Service.

At the end of 1960, Allegany County had 38 contracts in force involving 1,963 acres of cropland in the conservation reserve program. These acres were taken out of production and devoted to conservation uses.

The annual payment made to these 38 farmers amounted to $25,923. In addition to the annual payment, $516 was paid to farmers who needed to establish permanent cover in 1960.

In the wheat allotment and marketing quotas, 205 farms growing wheat were allotted 1,111 acres for allotments. A wheat referendum was held last July to determine if quotas would be retained on wheat for 1961, but there were no votes cast in Allegany County.

The marketing year under the wool program began April 1, 1960 and closed March 31 of this year. A total of 1,166 pounds of shorn wool and 15,050 pounds of unshorn lambs will be eligible for incentive payment. Farmers filing applications will receive their checks next month.

The work carried out under the performance program consisted of measuring wheat and land going into the Soil Bank of the Conservation Reserve.

Ryan Allowed His Freedom Until June 27

Gets 181 Days, Fines Of $25,000

Edward J. Ryan, Cumberland and Frostburg attorney who was sentenced to 181 days in prison and fined a total of $25,000 yesterday on three counts of income tax evasion, will be allowed to remain free until June 27.

Chief Judge Roszel C. Thomsen, who passed sentence in Federal District Court being held at the Allegany County Court House for the first time in five years, stipulated that the sentence will not start until June 27. Judge Thomsen does not designate the institution in which the attorney will be confined. Prison officials are responsible for that duty.

The trial came to an abrupt end in its third day when Judge Thomsen accepted a plea of nolo contendere or no contest from Mr. Ryan's attorneys, William C. Walsh, Clyde Y. Morris of Baltimore and Miller Bowen of Frostburg. A not guilty plea had been entered at the start of the trial Monday morning.

Tydings Opposed

In accepting the new plea, Judge Thomsen disregarded the argument against it by Joseph D. Tydings, U. S. district attorney, who cited the substantial amounts of money involved. "As long as I am district attorney I intend to make prosecution of tax cases my first priority," Mr. Tydings said.

Judge Thomsen imposed a 181-day sentence on each of the three counts but provided that they should be concurrent. He levied a $10,000 fine on the 1953 income tax return, in which the government contended Mr. Ryan's income estimate was low by $32,230.65. For the 1954 return, where the government cites a difference of $2,639.85 in total income, Judge Thomsen provided a $5,000 fine. On the 1955 income, where the government contended Mr. Ryan's reported income was $21,592.77 low, the judge levied another $10,000 fine.

In his opening argument to the jury Monday morning, Mr. Walsh had pointed out that in September 1959 Mr. Ryan paid the government a total of $60,806.67 for tax deficiency for the four-year period from 1953 through 1956, including $12,094.03 interest.

After passing sentence, Judge Thomsen expressed a hope that Mr. Ryan would come back to the community and continue his work and service to the "little people."

Free Until June 27

The sentenced attorney was allowed his freedom on his own recognizance until June 27.

The government had not quite completed its case when the trial came to its sudden end yesterday. At least one more witness was to have been called.

As a result of the changed plea, the defense attorneys were allowed to present four character witnesses who told of Mr. Ryan's standing in the community. They included retired Chief Judge D. Lindley Sloan, Rev. H. Maunsell Richardson, rector of Emmanuel Episcopal Church; Harry J. Barton, dairyman and businessman, and Ralph R. Webster, superintendent of schools.

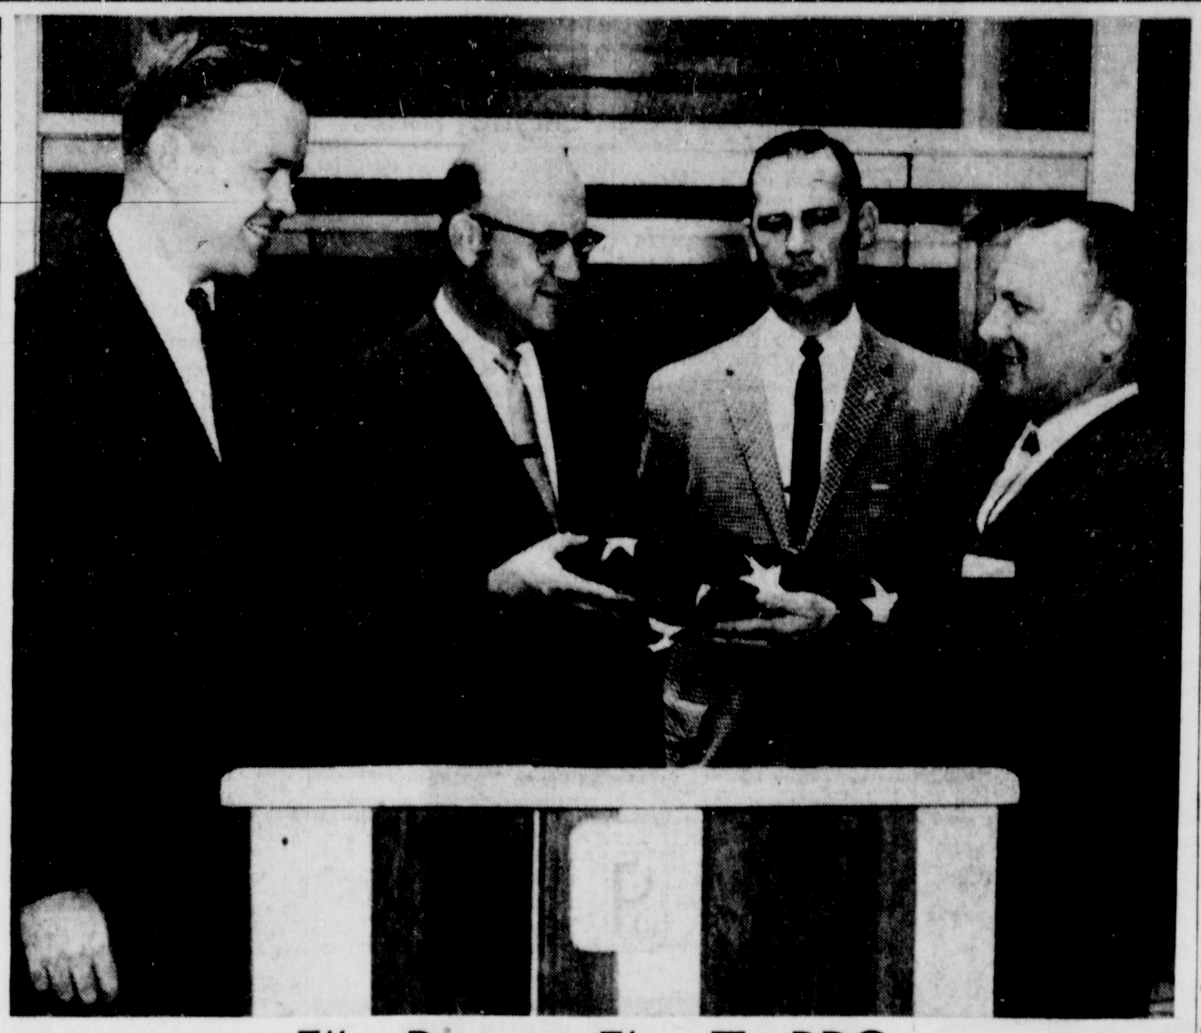

Eleven witnesses had been heard during the first two days of the trial, which had been expected to last all week. Ten of them were called to the stand on opening day. Milton Kyhos, special agent of the Intelligence Division of the Internal Revenue Service was the only witness Tuesday. It was he who headed the long investigation into Mr. Ryan's tax returns. He was on the stand all day.

Assistant District Attorney Daniel Honemann assisted Mr. Tydings in the prosecution of the case.

Garbage Rules To Be Enforced By Health Dept.

The Health Department has received many complaints concerning condition of garbage containers placed on curbs for collectors here, according to J. Byron Dowling, senior sanitarian.

Mr. Dowling said the regulations of the Cumberland Board of Health for the disposal of garbage will be strictly enforced by the Health Department.

Most complaints have been about placing garbage in cardboard containers. The law requires that all garbage must be drained and wrapped in paper before being placed in a watertight metal container. Ashes must also be placed in metal containers, but household rubbish may be placed in suitable baskets.

Garbage, ashes and rubbish placed in cardboard containers for collection is a violation of the law and cannot be picked up by Cumberland garbage collection crews, Mr. Dowling said.

Mementos Of Civil War Featured At Library

A display at the Cumberland branch of the Allegany County Library this week features a number of Civil War mementos.

Included are some 32 uniform buttons found in the Wilderness area west of Fredericksburg, Va., where two bloody battles of the Civil War were fought. Seven of these buttons came from Confederate uniforms and the other 25 from Union uniforms.

Two so-called illiteracy stencils found at Chancellorsville, Va., are included in the exhibit. Many Civil War soldiers could neither read nor write their names. The stencils were used to aid in putting names on belongings and for "signing" letters written for them by someone else. They were found only on April 26, 1960.

The stencils bear the names of William A. Barrow, who was a private from Massachusetts, and Henry R. Calder, who was a first sergeant from New Jersey.

Items in the display belong to H. A. Hoffman of Waynesboro, Va. They were brought to Cumberland by Dr. Charles Hansrote Jr., also of Waynesboro, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Hansrote, live at 519 Hill Top Drive.

To round out the display, Miss Mary G. Walsh, county librarian, also is exhibiting four of the many Civil War books available at the library. Featured are The Civil War At Sea, by Virgil Carrington Jones; The War In The Far West, Oscar Lewis; With Sherman To The Sea, Corydon Edward Foote, and Journey To Shiloh, Will Henry.

Police said the two men were sitting in the kitchen of Fayman's first-floor apartment. Elbon had the gun in his hand and was examining it, apparently unaware a round of ammunition was in the chamber.

When he pulled the trigger the slug went through the kitchen door, across an adjoining hallway and lodged in the bottom of a door sill.

Two Are Killed In Accident On Pa. Turnpike

Two persons were killed and three persons hospitalized yesterday evening in an accident on the Pennsylvania Turnpike about 11 miles east of the Somerset Interchange.

Killed instantly was John Michael Basilauskas, of 816 Washington Street, Braddock, Pa., who suffered a broken neck and fractured skull.

David Alfred Whalen, 21, of Strongsville, Ohio, died in Somerset Community Hospital of a broken neck and fractured skull, police said.

Admitted to the hospital were Walter Westphal, 56, and his wife, Ida Westphal, also 56, of the Bronx, N. Y., and George Lauar, 47, of Pittsburgh.

All three are in "fair" condition, according to attaches, who said that X-rays had been taken and some emergency operations performed.

The three persons were taken to the hospital in a turnpike ambulance after the accident, which occurred at 5:08 p. m. (EST).

Pennsylvania State Police are continuing an investigation of the accident.

They said an auto presumably driven by Lauar was headed east on the wet pavement and crossed over and hit a car being driven west by Westphal.

Whalen, who was driving west in back of Westphal, was towing a stock car. When Whalen swerved to the right he lost control of the car, which careened over a 37-foot embankment and turned over on Legislative Route 160.

Police said a woman identified as Carmelia Lauar was in the car with George Lauar.
